GENERAL DAVIS TO PROTECT DOUGLAS

Takes Every Precaution to Prevent Firing Across the Border

ISSUES INSTRUCTIONS

American Commander Warns Douglas Residents to Keep Within Their Houses

EXPECT FIGHT TO BEGIN TODAY

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 30.—Brigadier General Thomas F. Davis, commander of the sixth United States infantry brigade, tonight took over the responsibility of protecting American citizens on the north side of the United States-Mexican boundary in the event of a battle between Carranza troops, entrenched in Agua Prieta, across the border from here and Villa forces who are besieging the town.

Takes Every Precaution.

In a statement issued tonight General Davis said he had taken every precaution to prevent firing across the border into Arizona.

"I do not propose to see an American town shot up," the statement said.

Three thousand men of the sixth United States infantry brigade were placed in trenches today within a few feet of the Mexican boundary, ready to interfere should an attack result in shooting into American territory. Anticipating a battle tomorrow or Monday General Davis at the same time issued instructions to residents on the American side of the boundary to keep within doors, get behind adobe walls and not to trust to wooden barriers to keep out high powered bullets.

General Villa With Army.

Villa's advance guard under command of Colonel Thomas Franco, reached San Bernardino twenty miles east on the border today. Colonel Franco gave the first definite information received that General Villa himself was with the army. He said Villa would arrive at San Bernardino tomorrow. This is believed here to indicate that the expected battle may begin Monday.

Colonel Franco declared Villa felt friendly toward Americans and desired to avoid all trouble. Villa, he added, had eighteen thousand men and 60 80-millimetre or 3.1 inch-field guns. Previous reports credited Villa with seven thousand men and twenty eight guns.

Further information concerning the Villa forces was given by Juan Mendoza, 16 years old, who was wounded during a skirmish at Cabullona yesterday and brought to the Carranza hospital at Agua Prieta.

"We have had no beans or flour since we left Casas Grandes," the boy said. "Our food has been just plain cavaca (cow)."

Villa Men Tired and Hungry.

Mendoza declared the Villa men were tired and hungry, nevertheless he was certain Villa would take Agua Prieta.

The first of nine trains bearing reinforcements and supplies for the garrison at Agua Prieta reached Douglas late today. The Carranza troops and munitions were sent under guard thru the United States from Laredo, Texas, to Douglas. The other trains were expected here tonight or tomorrow. The first train to arrive brought equipment only.

CARRANZA WISHES TO DEAL WITH EUROPEAN NATIONS DIRECTLY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—General Carranza has made it clear thru the the foreign office of his government that he does not desire to deal with European governments through the United States and officials of the state department are in accord with his course.

Some of the European powers which have not yet recognized the de facto government have been transmitting representations thru American officials in Mexico. General Carranza now desires that foreign governments deal directly with him in the future.

MAN IS BEATEN TO DEATH.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—John Stockdale, a wealthy retired merchant at Lake Park, Iowa, was beaten to death in his room in a private sanitarium here today by Oliver Bennett of Beloit, Wis., a patitnt in an adjoining room, who has been under treatment for mental disorders. Stockdale was 72 and Bennett 37 years old.

MISS WALSH NEAR DEATH.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 30.—Miss Blanche Walsh, actress, who in private life is Mrs. W. H. Travers, is near death at Lakeside Hospital here. She has been playing in vaudeville and two weeks ago following her appearance at a theater here became ill.

SANGAMON COUNTY JURY INDICTS DYSON

CHARGE STATE VETERINARIAN WITH NEGLECT

Burke Says Testimony Was to the Effect that Diseased Animals, Which Died at the State Biological Laboratory Were Sold and Shipped to Peoria.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30.—An indictment charging Dr. Orrin E. Dyson, state veterinarian, with unlawfully neglecting to burn or to bury the carcasse of swine which had died from hog cholera was returned in court today by the Sangamon county grand jury. At Dr. Dyson's office in the state house it was said he was in Chicago.

Sheriff John A. Wheeler said today he would have one of his deputies serve a bench warrant on Dr. Dyson as soon as it was placed in his hands. The act under which the state veterinarian was indicted was passed in 1895, and was designed to prevent the spread of contagious disease among swine.

Bears Names of Two Witnesses.

The names of but two witnesses were on the copy of the indictment filed with the circuit court clerk. These were C. A. Lowery, secretary of the state board of livestock commissioners, which body is supposed to direct the activities of Dr. Dyson, and S. E. Peppers, said to be the proprietor of a Peoria rendering plant.

According to Edmund Burke, state's attorney of Sangamon county, testimony given before the grand jury was to the effect that diseased animals which had died at the state biological laboratory, near Springfield, were sold and shipped to Peoria.

"We had no grounds for indicting Dr. Dyson for selling the carcasses," said Mr. Burke. "In fact there is no law which forbids his doing this, but it is against the law for him to permit the shipment of cholera stricken hogs about the state."

Juneman a Member of Jury.

John Juneman, a member of the grand jury which indicted Dr. Dyson, was a member of the state board of livestock commissioners under Governor Charles S. Deneen.

Pending an investigation of charges last Saturday that diseased hogs were being trafficked in at the National Stock Yards at East St. Louis, Dr. Joseph A. Grossketter, deputy veterinarian and William Kane, state humane officer, were suspended the former by the livestock commission, the latter by Governor Dunne.

WILL NOT HASTEN PROSECUTION OF ALLEGED BOMB PLOTTERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Altho the case of Robert Fay, the confessed German bomb plotter and four other men charged with conspiracy to blow up steamers bearing supplies to the allies probably will be taken before the federal grand jury next Wednesday, United States district Attorney H. Snowden Marshall said today the government would not hasten prosecutions.

"Fay's arrest, after he had been watched for weeks, was ordered because it was feared he was on the verge of making use of the bombs which he had prepared," said Mr. Marshall, "but now that we have him in custody the government will deliberately continue to investigate all the ramifications of the plotting, if there were any ramifications. So far we have no evidence to show that Fay acted on other than his own plans in the plot."

CALL FOR NATIONAL APPEAL.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Plans of the National Peace federation announced today a call for a national appeal to President Wilson on Nov. 8 by night telegraph letters to "Co-operate with other neutral governments in calling a conference of neutral nations, the conference to constitute a voluntary court of continuous mediation, invite suggestions for settlement from warring nations, and in any case submit simultaneously to all of them reasonable proposals of bases for peace."

CAVE IN TRENCHES.

Constantinople, Oct. 29. (via London, Oct. 30.)—The Turkish war office tonight announced that a terrific bombardment by the Allies on the Gallipoli peninsula had caved in certain trenches on the Turkish left wing. CLAIM VICTORY FOR "DRY" FACTION

Suffrage Delegates State "Drys" Have Majority on State Board

CONVENTION CLOSES

Mrs. Harrison Brown of Peoria Succeeds Mrs. Trout as State President

CONSTITUTION IS AMENDED

PEORIA, Oct. 30.—Victory for the "dry" faction in the Illinois Equal Suffrage association was claimed tonight by delegates, leaving for their homes following the close of the convention at noon today. The "drys" claim that the election of the state board and particularly the defeat of Mrs. McSeverin of Chicago, chairman of the resolution committee; Miss Nellie Carlin of Chicago, and Dr. Lucy B. Waite of Chicago was due to a combination of drys and resulted in a dry majority on the new board.

"I will go to Chicago on Monday," said President Mrs. Harrison M. Brown tonight. "We have our first board meeting on Wednesday and will organize at that time for the work of the coming year."

Aside from the flurry created by Mrs. Flossie Slown Hyde and her followers over the temperance question, the convention was harmonious to a degree.

Mrs. Brown Heads Association.

Mrs. Harrison M. Brown, Peoria, was elected president succeeding Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout of Chicago. Other officers elected were Mrs. Harriet Taylor Treadwell, Chicago, first; vice president; Mrs. Judith W. Lowenthal, Chicago, recording secretary; Miss Margaret B. Debyne, Chicago, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John R. Gray, Chicago, treasurer, and Miss Jennie F. W. Johnson, Chicago, auditor.

These nine directors were chosen from sixteen candidates: Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, Chicago; Miss Katherine M. Porter, Freeport; Mrs. Holleway McClung, Monmouth; Mrs. Albert H. Shweizer, Chicago; Mrs. Charles B. Nagely, Chicago; Mrs Mary E. Busey, Urbana; Mrs. Carrie A. Bahrenburg, Belleville; Mrs. L. M. McGraw, Glencoe, and Miss Kate Adams, Chicago.

Resolutions were adopted that no meeting of the state association should be held without the display of the American flag; that the results of the investigation of the federal industrial relations commission be made public, and that the Susan B. Anthony amendment, be approved.

The adjournment followed the adoption of several amendments to the constitution. Chicago and Monmouth invited the convention in 1916. Chicago probably will be the city selected.

EXECUTE NINE SPYS IN BELGIUM

Ten Others, Including Three Women Sentenced to Penal Servitude

DETECT TWO MORE CASES

System Discovered in France is Alleged to Have Been Managed By French Officer's Wife

GERARD TRANSMITS REPORT

LONDON, Oct. 30—Nine persons who were convicted on Oct. 26th of espionage in Belgium were executed yesterday, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company who says this information was received in an official telegram from Berlin. Ten other people including three women were sentenced to penal servitude, it is stated.

The correspondent's despatch follows:

"An official telegram from Berlin states that in the last few days two additional important espionage cases have been detected in Belgium and northern France. In Belgium 21 persons have been arrested.

Planned to Dynamite Railways

"It is alleged that after having confined their energies for some months to obtaining news by espionage and sending it to France by way of Holland, they became bolder in September, planning to dynamite railways and buildings, besides assisting persons of military age to escape from Belgium to France. Among those arrested are four women, the principal charge against them being that they were endangering the safety of the German army.

"The espionage system reported to have been discovered in France is alleged to have been managed by the wife of a French officer. It is charged that she received her instructions direct from the French military authorities. Two other women are also under arrest, and according to Berlin the extent to which the system of espionage is organized is indicated by the fact that the arrested persons figure prominently in the French secret service list".

Gerard Transmits Report.

Washington, Oct. 30—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has transmitted to the state department a report he has received from the German foreign office which states that no Belgians have been condemned to death recently at Liege and that the Belgian government was in error in its report to that effect. The ambassadors' inquiry was made at the instance of the Belgian minister here and he was instructed to use his good offices in behalf of about thirty Belgians, reported to be under sentence of death at Liege.

NATIONAL GUARD WILL SUPPORT DEFENSE PLAN

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ENDS CONFERENCE WITH GARRISON

Opposition to Continental Army Scheme is Overcome —General Foster of Florida Militia Issues Statement.

Washington, Oct. 30—Support of the National Guardsmen of the country for the administration's defense plans, including the formation of a continental army was virtually assured today at the conclusion of a two day conference between Secretary Garrison and members of the executive committee of the National Guard association and the National Militia board.

Some opposition to the contenental army scheme developed yesterday when the conference began, but Secretary Garrison was successful in convincing the guardsmen of the wisdom of the plan.

General Foster of the Florida National Guard, chairman of the executive committee, issued the following statement.

"In the features of the plan for improving the National Defense which the secretary of war has approved were fully discussed and in practically event essential detail.

"The militia officers expressed great satisfaction that this plan does not minimize the importance of the organized militia but recommends increased militia appropriations.

"The National Guard officers' meeting here assume that the sentiment of the National Guard will be favorable to the recommendations of the secretary with regard to a necessary increase in the standing army and also to his proposal for the formation of a force of citizen soldiery which has been referred to as a cont'l ntal army and which, it is proposed to organize under the constitutional provision granting the federal government authority to raise and maintain armies".

PEABODY PAYS SILENT TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF FIRE VICTIMS

PEABODY, Mass., Oct. 30—This busy manufacturing town hushed its machinery today to pay a silent tribute to the memory of the twenty-one little girls who lost their lives in the fire which destroyed the St. John's Parochial School Thursday.

The parents of three of the children elected to have their little ones buried in private, but for the eighteen others a public mass was held at St. John's Roman Catholic church.

Hundreds of residents prepared to join the procession to the church, which was able to accommodate only a few of those who wished to attend. The supply of carriages in the town was exhausted and many citizens offered their automobiles to accommodate the mourners.

All stores and factories were closed during the services.

CUDAHY-NIBLACK NUPTIALS.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Miss Helen Cudahy, a prominent Chicago society girl, will be married today to Austin H. Niblack of Lake Forest. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy. The engagement was one of the interesting announcements of the summer. The young couple first formed their deep attachment when they took part in a society entertainment last spring. Miss Cudahy is the President of the Junior League, and because of the fact that every girl who has held the office has stepped out to become a bride, their friends have dubbed it the "Matrimony League."

LOUISVILLE CHURCH IS 100 YEARS OLD.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 30.—Celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Walnut street Baptist church wil begin tomorrow and continue until Nov. 7th. Many prominent Kentucky preachers will speak during next week. Many of the best known men in the Baptist demonination have at one time or another been members of the old church, and a large group of these distinguished men and women have returned for the celebration.

EXPECT NEWFOUNDLAND WILL GO DRY

St. John's, Newfoundland, Oct. 30.—Prohibition will be submitted to popular vote in Newfoundland next month, and it is expected that the measure will be adopted by a big majority. At present St. Johns is the only place on the island where liquor can be legally sold, and the majority in its favor has been steadily dwindling. The prohibition law, if adopted, will go into effect next July.

GUATEMALA OPENS EXPOSITION.

New Guatemala, Guatemala, Oct. 30—The National Exposition of Guatemala, given annually in connection with the fiesta of Minerva, Guatemala's holiday in honor of education, will open tomorrow. This year an unusual number of exhibits from the United States will be seen, and American goods will be boomed throughout this Central America republic.

DENIES SECOND APPEAL.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—A second appeal for an injunction to restrain Mayor Thompson from interfering with saloons on Sunday was denied by Judge Windes in the circuit court today.

ENTENTE TROOPS BEGIN TO RETIRE

Greek Authorities Aid Anglo French Staff in Soloniki Retirement

HAMMER MONTENEGRO

Austrians Are Exerting Renewed Pressure Along the Drina Near Vishegrad

REPORT BLACK SEA BATTLE

BERLIN, Oct. 30, via wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—The Overseas News Agency tonight gave out the following:

"A despatch from Athens reports that the entente troops have begun to arrive from Saloniki. General Hamilton (General A. B. Hamilton, commander of the British forces at Saloniki) communicated the fact to Prince Nicholas of Greece who ordered the Greek authorities to help the Anglo-French staff in the task of retirement".

Serbia Remains Center of Interest.

London, Oct. 30—Serbian remains the center of interest in the war. Except for the French contingent stiffening the Serbian line in the region of Straumitsa, the allied reinforcements have not yet reached her hard pressed and retreating armies and only the mountainous character of the country is saving these troops from annihilation. Serbia's tiny neighbor and ally, Montenegro meantime is being hammered by the Austrians, who are exerting renewed pressure along the Drina near Vishegrad, in a movement coordinating with the general Teutonic offensive in the Bankans. Following the Russian bombardment of the Bulgarian littoral, Russian troops are now reportetd to be crossing the Black Sea preparatory to an attempted landing with a view to taking the Bulgarians in the rear. These reports come from German sources however, and are not confirmed; nor is the report of a big naval engagement in the Black Sea between a Russian squadron and Turkish war craft, headed by the Goeben and Breslau.

Move is Generally Credited.

The rumored movement of Russian troops to aid Serbia is generally credited in England and given the most prominent place in the late editions of the London evening papers. A guarded reference to the undertaking was made in a Petrograd despatch printed this morning which referred to the Russian emperor "journeying south to give a send-off to large forces of all arms".

Serbian circles in London are still making urgent appeals to the allies to rush troops to their country's support but the very fact that the Serbians have been able to hold out to the present time has created a certain amount of optimism.

Neither of the great battle fronts in the east and west has furnished any marked developments. Petrograd reports tonight that the Austro-Germans are evacuating Volhynia, leaving a vast quantity of ammunition and supplies.

AMERICANS WILL UNDERTAKE RELIEF WORK IN POLAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The American commission for elief in Belgium will undertake similar work in Poland, it was learned tonight, as requested by Germany, provided the consent of Russia and her allies can be obtained. Russia is understood to approve the plan and immediate steps will be taken to secure formal agreement. Representatives of the relief commission have discussed the question with Secretary Lansing and other government officials here. While the United States government is not officially connected with the relief measures, officials are sympathetic to the plan. Details of the Polish relief work have not been worked out. It is estimated that 430,000,000 a month will be required to feed the destitute millions in the eastern theater of war.

While cabinet changes in France and England have in some cases been considered evidences of weakness, the announcement just made that Japan some time ago agreed not to conclude a separate peace has served to give some added strength to the allies' cause in public opinion. It appears that the communication asking Japan to formally ratify the agreement by the other allies with reference to any separate peace was made Oct. 19.

Voters of the county should remember that while only one office is to be voted upon next Tuesday, that the election is one of importance to every resident of the county. Frank Taggart of Meredosia is the Republican candidate and is well fitted for the duties of the office of county commissioner. Mr. Taggart has lived in Meredosia precinct for a great many years and has the confidence of those who know him intimately and the reputation of being an excellent business man. The duties of commissioners are constantly more important as the ideas of the people advance with reference to improvement and progress, and Mr. Taggart is well qualified to meet the constantly changing conditions.

Honor Luther's Memory.

This is Martin Luther day, and in observance of the 398 anniversary of the beginning of the reformation there will be special exercises in many of the churches. It was on this date that Luther nailed his famous thesis to the door of his church at Wittenburg. Plans have already been started for an important observance of the 400th anniversary of Luther's famous action two years hence. This observance may include the erection of an arch in Washington to commemorate the opening era for an advancement in Christian education and Christian morals. Luther's contribution to the Christianity of the day was notable and important, but undoubtedly his best monument can be found in the awakened consciences and better standards of the present day.

Arthur Kingsley, who finished his course at Illinois college a year or so ago, has for several months past been in charge of the Kingsley farm near McVey, Ill. By the application of modern methods in farming Mr. Kingsley is making a good showing there. He does not assume to know all about farming but is trying out various lines recommended by farm specialists. This year Mr. Kingsley has one field of corn which he is now shucking out and hauling to the elevator at a delivered price of 48c per bushel. The field is averaging 72 bushels to the acre.

Another field was planted quite late and was caught by the early frost, so that in order to get the money out of this crop it was necessary to buy a load or two of cattle. Forty head of very thin western cattle were purchased on a favorable market and were shipped in just a few weeks ago. Now the frost bitten corn is being cut and hauled to these cattle. In addition they are being given a good quantity of alfalfa hay which was not in marketable condition. Some of this hay was discolored by rain and the remainder was mixed with wheat, as it was planted on a field where wheat grew in 1914. In other words the steers are getting feed which was not marketable and the plan was adopted with the expectation of thus realizing on crops which would otherwise be wasted. The animals are making good gains and Mr. Kingsley figures that he has enough feed to give them for the next two months, and if market conditions are normal he will ship them back to St. Louis early in January.

Most of the good hay from the farm is shipped to St. Louis where there is usually a good market. There is quite an extensive acreage of alfalfa on the Kingsley farm and a regular system of crop rotation is now being followed.

Just a Few Millions.

Bethlenem steel stock, which prior to the war was listed something below $50, has been selling around $400. The change in price and the speculation which has been going on in this stock is indicative of the wild career of some of the so-called "war bride" stock. Now a suit for $300,000,000 has been brought by a Delaware corporation against the Bethlehem company charging that in the manufacture of war munitions that there have been infringements of patents which have resulted in profits of more than the amount sued for by the Delaware concern. Under ordinary conditions such a suit might affect the market price of the Bethlehem stock, but in the wild way that speculators have been handling some of these war stocks, a suit for a mere matter of three or four millions will probably be counted quite unimportant.

Another Temperance Lesson.

Somewhere in the Bible the incident is related wherein an evil spirit entered into a drove of swine and thus possessed they dashed away and were drowned in the sea. History repeated itself to a certain extent the other day at Lewistown, Mo., where according to report a number of hogs got on a drunk as a result of eating the skimmings from sorghum molasses after fermentation had set in. The hogs ate liberally and some of them became so intoxicated that they tried to stand on their heads and perform all sorts of antics. There was no nearby sea for them to rush into or another detail would probably have been duplicated. But the fermented food induced such active stunts that quite a number of the animals died.

Struggle for Conventions.

The announcement made Friday of the meeting of the national committees of the Republican and Democratic parties when the dates and cities for holding the national conventions will be named, will bring into further activity those cities which are seeking the conventions. Some time ago St. Louis and Chicago both raised large sums to be utilized in entertaining the conventions if able to secure them. St. Louis is now basing part of its hope because of the aid promised from Kansas City. That city will lend all possible support to St. Louis and thus repay a part of its obligation for influence lent in securing the American Bankers' association for Kansas City a year or two since.

"Every Morgan county citizen who drives in the country Sunday should look about him and consider conditions as they really are and then remember just how much people here have to be thankful for." That is the way that a local banker yesterday began a "preachment" on the beauties and advantages of Morgan county.

Certainly his statements were supported by the facts, for any one who drives thru the county now cannot but be impresed with the thought that this is, indeed, a land of peace and plenty. Aside from the dust the country roads are in excellent condition. The orchards are laden with fruit to a degree almost without parallel in the history of the country. With very few exceptions the corn fields show yields far in excess of the average for recent years. Pastures are in excellent condition and here and there in every direction are at least small fields of alfalfa showing a rich green coloring in the bright October sunlight and giving every evidence of progressive farming method. There is activity about all farm homes, and in many instances buildings are being painted during this favorable season and fence repairs are in progress. In many instances corn cribs are in the course of erection, and the air fairly breathes prosperity and improvement.

And in addition to all these things to appeal to the eye and to the material senses, there is a background of foliage of such luxuriant hues that there is also an appeal to the artistic sense. If you walk or drive into the country today, if you have not already been impressed with these conditions, take a look around and you will find on every hand evidences of the truth of this statement. Certainly this is a great county to live in, and the year 1915 has been so bountiful in its returns to the farmer that the deficiencies of some former years are well wiped out. When you remember the plenty which prevails, remember also that this condition is the basis for the prosperity of the city and state, and with this line of argument there will come the realization that there is every reason for a feeling of the greatest optimism.

Death Brings Triumph.

Judging from the impetus given to enlistment in England because of the execution of Edith Cavell and from the deep feeling manifested at her funeral which 10,000 people attended, the brave war nurse by her death gave more to her country than she could possibly have done thru a long period of life. "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend", is just as applicable when one's country is concerned, and history teems with proof that death, which is sometimes counted as the end of things, often exerts more influence than life.

The deep religious effect of Miss Cavell's sacrifice is in no way more notably evidenced than in the words of Hall Caine, who wrote of her funeral service:

"What a triumph for religion, for Christianity, for the church! What an answer to Neitzsche! What a rebuke to Treitschke! What a smashing blow to all the wise philosophers who have been telling us that Corsica has conquered Galilee!

"That in these dark and evil days, the people of London should assemble in tens of thousands to thank God for the shadow of a scaffold and to find inspiration in thinking of the martyr's end is proof enough that not lust of empire, not "the will to gain power", not war for its own sake or for the triumph it brings in its train, but religion and with it righteousness, is still the bread of our souls.

"Poor Nurse Cavell" we were saying to each other as we went into the Cathedral, thinking of that mockery of a military trial at Brussels and of the shower of bullets in the prison yard from the muskets of an inhuman soldiery. But, as we came out of it, moved to tears and thrilled up to our throbbing throats, scarcely able to speak for the emotion that mastered us, we were saying to ourselves: "No, not poor—great, heroic, immortal, everlasting—victorious! One of the sentinels on the hilltop of eternity who have won the right to stand by the beacon fires of hope and sacrifice which light up the destinies of mankind".

GOOD WEATHER.

Just think of all the handsome weather we've had since weather was designed! We've often had ten days together of climate smooth as one could find. Nine-tenths of all our days are bully, with sunshine scattered everywhere; then comes a day that's wild and wolly, and how we groan and paw the air! "This climate surely is the limit," thus are our vain repinings voiced; "the fog's so thick a man could skim it, the rain is always damp and moist. In winter, when we need hot weather, they send all kinds of snow and sleet; in summer when we pray together for snow, they send us sizzling heat." The weather bureau couldn't hand us a climate that we'd all indorse; we'd say, "This sort of thing will land us out in the boneyard, 'neath the gorse." On tropic isles no doubt the heathen complain of skies too blue and fair; they'd move up north and start to breathin' the fresh and crisp Alaska air. And 'mid the bleak Alaska mountains the natives say they'd give a dime, if they could go where sparkling fountains are squirting in a sunny clime.

"THE CLEMENCEAU CASE" FAMOUS IN WORLD OF PHOTO PLAYS

Will Be Shown at Scott's Next Wednesday—Stotry of Intense Dramatic Interest Will Be Unfolded by Star Cast.

No more powerful sermon was ever preached than "The Clemenceau Case". No more vivid, pulsating drama was ever written than "The Clemenceau Case". No more wonderful photoplay than "The Clemenceau Case", as picturized for William Fox, president of the Fox Film Corporation, and starring Theda Bara. "The Vampire Woman", has ever been beheld upon the screen. These statements are made without reservation. Like a mighty river the story of the drama rushes strong and swift to its cataclysmic climax. Passions flare and wills clash throughout the production in a way that grips the spectator, holding him breathless in his chair till the last great scene is reached and the well-night overwhelming story of "The Clemenceau Case is brought to its tremendous end.

James Archibald the noted Critic writes: "I was thrilled to the marrow by the terrific sweep and power of this truly marvelous photoplay. Never before had I seen a packed theatre in tears and excitement and then electrified by a climax that brought them shouting to their feet and cheering that wonderful French genius Theda Bara. This noted actress, leading woman of the Theatre Antoine and The Gymnase Paris held us all in merciless throll with her almost painfully realistic work. The supporting cast furnished by Mr. Fox was splendid. William E. Shay and Stuart Holmes were never better".

Pierre Clemenceau is brought up like a little weed in a shabby boarding house in the slums of Paris. His mother is a struggling seamstress. His father comes home one night in a drunken rage. He abuses the woman with whom he has formed an irregular alliance. Then he flings out of the house, forever.

Years pass by. Pierre has attained the dignity of his first trousers. He is a pupil at a cheap boarding school. His greatest chum at school is a lad called Andre. Andre invites Pierre to his home. Andre's mother knows the secret of Pierre's parentage. She forbids Andre to associate with him. Boylike, Andre tells the other pupils of the school the story. Pierre finds himself shunned. He seeks out Andre and gives him a thrashing. From the little group of schoolboys who have watched the battle with huge delight, one boy stands out as the crowd dissolves. He is Ritz Constantin.

"I know nothing about what the other chaps are saying", he says, "but I like you. I'll be your chum."

Ritz invites Pierre to visit at Ritz's home in Paris. Ritz's father, the elder Constantin, is a celebrated sculptor. In Constantin's studio, Pierre idly takes up a lump of modeling clay. With natural skill his hands begin forming it. Constantin enters and watches the boy. He is struck by the great natural genius Pierre betrays. The sculptor visits Pierre's mother. He tells her he will make Pierre a great sculptor.

Ten years elapse. The elder Constantin gives a riotous studio party. Among the guests are the Countess Dobronowska. With her she brings her stunning daughter, Iza, a young girl of striking beauty and sinuous fascination. The fires of unbridled passion smolder in her dark eyes. Baron Sergius whose escapades have made him known throughout Paris as a Lothario, is another guest.

Then a story which covers years of intrigue is unfolded. Iza proves herself as heartless as she is beautiful and her career justifies the name "the vampire woman". In the end Pierre who weds her and later finds her false stabs her as he kisses her beautiful lips. All through the play the intense interest is sustained and thus "The Clemenceau Case" has come to be known the world over because of its dramatic interest which holds the audience almost breathless. This really great play, which critics everywhere have praised will be shown at Scott's theater next Wednesday.

GASOLINE 13 CENTS AT NEWMAN'S GARAGE.

"THE SINGLE CODE GIRL."

"The Single Code Girl," which appeared from the press a few weeks ago is from the pen of Mrs. Bell Elliott Palmer of this city. It has been having a big sale and at present is reported to rank 8th in the list of best sellers in Chicago and 6th in Boston.

The frontispiece is a portrait of a young lady in the fashionable Back Bay district of Boston, whose identity is, of course, not disclosed. The story of the book was told to the eminent artist, Chase Emerson; and he was asked to find a girl of the proper age who in beauty, aristocratic personality, character, intelligent and innocence would exemplify the Mildred of the story. He did it.

WONDERFUL VALUES IN COATS MONDAY AND TUESDAY, AT HERMAN'S.

MAVERICKS

Poetic license is a thing
Of the dark and hoary ages,
No more will poets run rampant
Across newspaper pages.

In the future when he wants,
A word to rhyme with dough
He may find he's up against
These letters, T-H-O.

So rhymers, most probably,
Will be in an awful stew
When they pick up a catalog
And look it thru and thru.

According to reports trimmings for the Thanksgiving turkey will cost less this year. Most of us probably will have to be satisfied with the trimmings.

A girl named Corn married a man named Cobb down in El Paso, Texas, the other day. We fail to see why a girl with a good substantial name like Corn should want to change it to Cobb. We would rather be a cob of corn than corn cob any day.

Coach Harmon doesn't say much for publication but when his football team goes on the field it makes up for any lack of talk on the part of the coach.

It would be an awful calamity if Mr. Rosevelt and Mr. Bryan should get the namination for president in their respective parties.

Porter Charlton on trial in Italy charged with murdering his wife was given a sentence of six years and eight months. Judged on that basis if a man should be charged with murdering his mother in law in that country he probably would be turned lose and given a gold medal.

Horror, thrice horror. The Illinois Art Association has decreed that Stephen A. Douglas' head was too large and has barred his bronze cast from the capitol building at Springfield. "How are the mighty fallen," and just think of some of the heads that have broken into the capitol building in recent years

They have some lady owls in Peoria. It must be rather embarassing to the lady owls husbands if they emulate the example of the feathered bird for most of the Peoria men get home from lodge rather early in the morning.

A man had an attack of heart disease while watching the vaudeville performance at the Orpheum theater in Peoria the other night. We hope it wasn't the man who won the Linerick contest conducted by Kee Maxwell in the Peoria Journal.

Warren Luttrell in the Franklin Times says, "How few sunrises the majority of us see—and yet a sunrise is one of nature's prettiest pictures." We agree with Warren but the only trouble with most men is that when they see a sunrise it is the morning after and the whole world usually looks a dark drab gray.

Judging from present indication turkeys will be about as scarce at Thanksgiving time as Russians are in Germany.

They had a horse shoe pitching contest out at Kansas City the other day for the championship of the world. That ought to be about as exciting as a boxing match between Joe Jeanete and Sam McVey.

The senior class at the high school in electing officers for the Crimson J, elected a joke editor. They should not do that. There are too many joke editors in the country now.

JACKSONVILLE ILL.

The diagram shows how it works

Fresh air (just as with a furnace) is drawn in at the sides, heated evenly to several hundred degrees temperature, and discharged—not through the flue and chimney, but through the top of the hot-air chamber into the room. This creates a thorough circulation of hot air that will successfully heat several rooms. Even the upstairs rooms can be heated by the aid of a simple pipe connection.

"ESTATE"

Holeproof Hosiery
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Warranted Against Tears, Drop-Stitches, Running Threads, or Any Manner of Hole

Six pairs of lisle or cotton are warranted to wear six months without holes, three pairs of silk three months. If any pair fails in that time you get new hose free.

Men's Holeproof Socks, 25c per pair and up. Women's and Children's Holeproof Stockings, 35c per pair and up.

Such perfect hose would be far more costly if the output of the Holeproof factory were smaller.

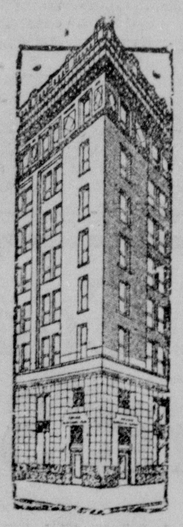

But they're making Holeproofs for millions, and large output cuts the factory cost per pair.

They import Japan's choicest silk. They procure the finest, longest cotton fibre grown in Egypt. They could pay half for lesser yarns. But then these hose would wear like common hose.

Ask us to show you these fine hose that mean such a saving to you in labor and money.

HALLOWE'EN PARTIES AND OTHER SOCIAL EVENTS

"Some merry, friendly country folks
Together did convene
To burn their nuts and pull their stalks
And hold their Hallowe'en."
—Burns.

Hallowe'en, 1915, is a fact of history and the occasion was celebrated in Jacksonville in the usual hilarious manner. Mysterious individuals clad in ghostly sheets and wearing frightful masks paraded the streets making one think of the words of Shakespeare:

"'Tis said that when the great Iulus fell the sheeted dead did squeak and gibber in the streets of Rome."

Merry youngsters assembled in groups and parties all over the city while some intended gatherings had to be postponed till Monday night as the participants are occupied in stores.

Wedding Announced.

Miss Rose Margaret Springgate, of Roodhouse is to be married Nov. 18th to Charles Edward Seymour of Springfield. The bride to be is a niece of W. C. Springgate, formerly at the head of the Brown Business college of this city. The young people will live in Springfield.

Hallowe'en Event at Nurses' Home

Seniors of the Passavant Hospital Training school entertained Saturday evening in the parlors of the nurses home at a pleasant event in celebration of the Hallowe'en season. In addition to students of the school there were present nurses resident in Jacksonville. An excellent time was enjoyed by thirty-five guests.

Oyster Supper at Home of Charles Coon.

Friday evening the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coon was open to a number of Mr. Coon's Knight Templar friends and their wives. A delightful evening and a delicious supper were much enenjoyed by all present. At a late hour they departed for their respective homes. Thoses present were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crawley, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crawford, Charles Rabjohn and daughter, E. M. Chrisman, wife and daughter of Merritt, Jas. Cunningham, wife and daughter of the east part of the county.

Miss Self Entertains Sunday School Class.

Miss Nellie Self was hostess Saturday afternoon at her home on South East street to Miss Flossie Kellogg's Sunday school class of the Centenary church. The hours from two thirty to five were most pleasantly spent in games asnd a social time. Music formed a part of the afternoon's pleasure, while a peanut contest afforded no little amusement. Light refreshments were served. Among those present were Idabel Rabjohn, May Roberts, Helen Rawlings, Helen Bergstrom, Dorothy Cowger, Marian Hart, Mada Todd, Ruth Roberts, Elsie Cannon, Vivian Carlisle, Gladys Holscher, Ella Harley and Lucile McCool of Springfield.

Kewpie Klan Entertained.

The members of the Kewpie Klan were very pleasantly entertained by Miss Marie Walsh Friday evening at her home on Ashland Ave., which was prettily decorated for the occasion with Jack O'Lanterns, autumn foiliage and crysonthemums. Games appropriate to Hallowe'en were played, prizes being won by Misses Teresa Lonergan, Irene Smith, Viola Jokisch and Joseph Walsh. A dainty luncheon was served.

Franklin Pupils Enjoy Hallowe'en.

The pupils of Franklin held a Hallowe'en celebration Friday afternoon. All of the rooms assembled at 1:30 o'clock and a program was given to which each contributed. The pupils then went to their various rooms and proceeded to celebrate. Miss Johnson's sixth grade pupils prepared a play based on James Whitcomb Riley's poems. The children enjoyed refreshments after which they went to the play grounds where games were played and a peanut hunt was indulged in . Miss Fox's pupils had a regular masquerade party. The pupils of Miss Brown, Miss Carter, Miss Uzzell and Miss Clampit also had exercises appropriate to the occasion.

Miss Lucile Bolton Entertains Friends.

Miss Lucile Bolton entertained a company of friends at her home on South Diamond street Saturday evening. The evening was spent with games and music and refreshments were served in keeping with the Hallowe'en idea. The affair was most delightful in every particular.

Birthday Surprise For Mrs. Mawson

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mawson of South Jacksonville were agreeably surprised Saturday evening, the occasion being the 68th anniversary of Mrs. Mawson's birth. Their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren to the number of twenty-two gathered at their home taking with them well filled baskets. There were Hallowe'en favors and the evening was most enjoyable for all. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Mackness, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Mawson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Mawson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mawson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Reeve, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Sadler, Miss Caroline Markham, Miss Lucile Markham, Georgia, Harold, Margaret and Mildred Louise Mawson, Watson and Charles Reeve, Billie Sadler and George W. Markham.

Grace Church Classes Enjoy Hallowe'en

A weiner roast was enjoyed Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Barbre, southwest of the city, by two classes of Grace M. E. church Sunday school. By hay frame and automobile young people to the number of thirty-five or more, members of the classes taught by Harlan Williamson and Mrs. Thos. V. Hopper, went to the Barbre home and after completing their outdoor supper adjourned to the house for music and a pleasant time of mirth and sociability.

Young People of I. S. D. Have Pleasant Social

Twenty young people from the Illinois School for the Deaf met Saturday evening for a social good time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reeve, 1260 South Main street. Hallowe'en games were followed by the serving of pumpkin pie, doughnuts, and cider. The rooms were prettily decorated, in a manner suitable for the season.

House Party for Hallowe'en

A party of Jacksonville friends are enjoying a week-end house party and Hallowe'en observance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Richardson, west of the city. Saturday evening the guests made merry around a large camp fire. The company includes Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vannier and daughter, Anna Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cody and children, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roach and children, Ewen I. Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Potter and children and Miss Cora Megginson.

Theta Sigma Party at Colonial Inn

A delightful Hallowe'en party for new students of Illinois Woman's college was given Saturday evening at the Colonial Inn by Theta Sigma society, with Dr. and Mrs. Harker, Miss Mothershead, Miss Laura McLaughlin, Miss Louise Robinson, Miss Mabel Louise Gleckler, Miss Grace Cowgill and Miss Mary Anderson, members of the college faculty, as special guests. A program was given, consisting of a travelogue number, "Through I. W. C.," written by Miss Ruth Patton and read by Miss Anne Floreth; an operetta in which Miss Floreth, Miss Ila Allen and Miss Helen McGhee took part and a season of guessing conundrums. Officers of the society stood with members of the faculty in the receiving line. Hallowe'en suggestions were made in the house decorations and in the buffet luncheon.

U. C. T.'s Meet With Mr. and Mrs. Mortenson

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mortenson, 904 West Lafayette avenue entertained Jacksonville council, No. 182, United Commercial Travelers, with their families, as well as several U. C. T. members from Virginia, Ashland, Meredosia and Beardstown, Saturday evening at a Hallowe'en party which will long be remembered for its clever originality and abundant hospitality. The guests on arrival were taken through a spooky "dungeon" room. The rooms above they found bedecked most aprpopriately and the luncheon, dainty as well as delicious. Much merriment was afforded by the novelty of the costumes and all found fun in the prophecies of a mysterious necromancer, ensconced in a bower of corn stalks and endowed with a knowledge of "all past and future events."

Earl Hoover Has Birthday Party.

Earl G. Hoover, 502 West College avenue, celebrating his 10th birthday by giving a Hallowe'en party to ten of his boy friends. Suitable games were played and dainty refreshments were served. The young host was the proud recipient of several handsome gifts.

I. W. C. "Preps" Have Picnic and Hay Ride.

Gravel Springs was the destination of a merry party of Illinois Woman's College "prep" girls and the company of forty which sat around a flaring camp fire and entertained one another with song and story, celebrated Hallowe'en in a maner as pleasant as it was unique. The girls left the college at 4:30 o'clock on one of Cherry's big hay frames and sought materials for the fire, by which they cooked their supper. Four faculty members accompanied the party: Miss Dorothea Washburn, officer for the senior academy class; Miss Helen Stewart, third year officer; Miss Alma Hollinger, the first and Miss Anna Shaw. class officer for the specials.

Give Hard Times Pary

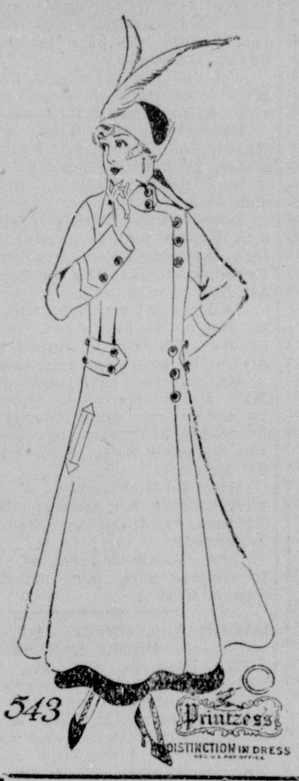

About forty friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Goebel were entertained Saturday evening at their home, No. 1 Duncan place. It was a Hallowe'en party of course but instead of ghostly costumes the guests were asked to wear the "raggedest clothes" they could find. Evidently diligent attic searches had been made and the results were effective indeed. Prizes were awarded Mrs. W. B. Young and H. C. Gay for the most successin costuming. The house was very prettily decorated with autumn foliage while black cat lanterns and pumpkin heads carried out the Hallowe'en idea.

The refreshments were in keeping with the other generous arrangement and the party was in every way enjoyable.

Children Gather At Wilson Home.

A pleasant Hallowe'en gathering was that at the home of W. T. Wilson, 1312 West State street, Saturday when thirty children assembled and spent a merry evening with music and games. Decorations and refreshments carried out the Hallowe'en idea in most clever manner.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn. — "I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do." — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

EDWARD HEMBROUGH SUCCESSFUL FARMER OF MORGAN COUNTY

Gives Facts Relative to Corn, Ensilage and Stock Raising.

One of the successful farmers of Morgan county is Edward Hembrough of the well known Asbury neighborhood. Among other things Mr. Hembrough is one of the men who began a good while ago the use of the silo and he still has the same opinion of it he had years ago and regards it of great value to a farmer. He says he considers since placing of a crop of silage in the silo as fifty per cent more expensive than cutting and husking the same amount of crop but on the other hand he regards the value of the part of the crop saved that way for feed at forty per cent which is a large item.

Mr. Hembrough has 120 acres of corn in this year and he says the labor involved in feeding a crop of ensilage is far less than the work in any other method of feeding. For regular purposes he regards the standard Reid's Yellow Dent as the corn to raise but for ensilage he prefers the Leaming variety. He values ensilage high and especially is it valuable during dry years. Mr. Hembrough feeds its away up to June and the two years previous to the present his silos have been a very important part of his farm outfit.

Mr. Hembrough prefers to feed what he raises and to that end buys catle of medium grade late in the winter or early in the spring and gives them some broken corn. He doesn't think a great deal of corn mills for feeding when one has plenty of hogs to follow the stock. For the catle he has large sheds which he thinks pays. He manages to feed in them putting in them his straw and also feeding lots of shock corn and each spring he hauls out from the sheds 75 loads of valuable manure which is vastly better than burning the stalks or straw.

Mr. Hembrough has had pretty good success with hogs and believes in vaccination and said he had some immune sows among cholera stock, they were not troubled. His main point is to have the vaccine serum of the best quality and used fresh and in the right manner without waiting for the hogs to get sick.

He prefers the Poland China breed yet and uses some Durocs too and thinks he will cross them and thus obtain a fine animal for feeding purposes. He generally tries for but one litter to a sow each year and those he prefers to have come in the latter part of March or the first of April. He has a long shed which he divides into apartments for each individual sow with a litter of pigs. He doesn't take the trouble to slop very much to the pigs while they are small but manages to have them get plenty of good clover which helps make first class hogs.

He has been keeping his hogs till they are fifteen months old but is going to market them earlier hereafter as they pay better. The day the very large hog is past and he will not be the admiration of good judges any more. Buyers at the centers want lighter animals and hereafter Mr. Hembrough will send his hogs over the road when they are from seven to twelve months old and in that way get better results than has been the case with him in the past. When hogs go forward so late there is some reason why they are not so saleable. Of late years it is the smaller carcass that has brought the best prices and will be so for a long time to come.

He has this year sowed ten acres of soy beans which he means to have harvested by the hogs with nothing farther too look after, and he expects good results therefrom.

He has good number of buildings which he values highly and with good reason for on high priced land a man must use every means to get the most possible from his acres.

LABOR CONVENTION TO PROBE STRIKE PLOTS

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The alleged attempts of representatives of foreign nations to influence improperly and corruptly union labor officials, to foment strike and industrial disturbances during the past year will be threshed out before the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which will be held here in November. The executive council has already gathered information concerning these various alleged plots to involve American workmen in the propaganda of cutting off ammunition for foreign powers. It is understood that the propaganda activities would be laid before the convention in the form of a report from the council. The fact that no formal action was taken by the council indicates that no specific recommendations will be made in its report on the subject, leaving the convention free to dispose of the matter as it sees fit.

It is reported that labor officials generally concur in the statements made by President Gompers, in which he has taken the propogandists severely to task and has not hesitated to denounce as "corrupt" the measures used by agents of outside interests to foment strikes in this country.

COMPLETES BIG ORDER FOR ENGINES

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—Completing its contract with the Russian government on time today, the Baldwin Locomotive works turned out the 250th locomotive for the Czar's railways. The entire output was built within four months, and Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce has declared the accomplishment was a record-breaker.

The new locomotives are being shipped as fast as the waiting vessels can take them to Vladivostock, where they will be put on the long track through Siberia, and will be used in hauling the immense supplies for the Russian army and distributing coal, a much needed commodity in various parts of the empire.

BIG UNDER-SEA BOAT READY FOR TESTS

Boston, Oct. 30.—The new United States submarine M-1, which, when added to the navy, will be the largest undersea vessel in the service, will be ready for the navy trial board tests next week. The M-1 has received her finishing touches at Quincy. In her preliminary trials, the new submarine showed unusual efficiency of its engines. It is in the engines that the navy department seeks to improve the under-sea boats. If the M-1 is accepted, it will go into commission and will probably join the Atlanti fleet until the larger seagoing submarines are ready. Then the M-1 will undoubtedly be assigned to coast defense service.

SECOND TRIAL FOR AUSTRIAN AGENT

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Israel Schaeffer, a steamship ticket agent, charged with "aiding and comforting the enemy" by providing the Austrian reservists with transportation to Europe, and then advising them to pass as Roumanians, will stand trial for a second time at the November sitting of the Court of King's Bench. Schaeffer was tried recently, but the jury disagreed. He is under $15,000 bail.

They have many friends who will extend sincere congratulations. The groom is a weaver at Sapps' Mills and the young people expect to make their home at 742 North Main street.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL NOTES

Dr. Simmons of Girard brought to the hospital Eugene Whittler, son of Ernest Whitler of Nilwood. The child was playing in the yard and struck something with a hammer; an explosion followed and the little fellow, five years old lost part of the fingers of his left hand and received a wound in his thigh. It is supposed a cartridge must have been carelessly left about the place and caused the accident. His aunt, Miss Elizabeth Whitler, a graduate nurse, came with him.

Dr. Fred Metcalf of Franklin was a recent caller at the hospital.

William Danks, severely hurt while in the employ of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., is getting along well. His mother has returned home to Crystal City but his wife is with him.

Mrs. Samuel Edwards of Tallula, operated on recently, is getting along in a gratifying manner.

Dr. J. W. Eckman of Winchester was a recent caller at the hospital.

Sylvester Groce of Winchester, who was brought to the hospital in a serious condition is improving.

Dr. Weis of Manchester called at the hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Velsie Herman of Meredosia has recovered sufficiently to enable her to return home.

Dr. Harris of Alexander has returned home after a visit with his brother.

Mrs. Mary L. Matlock has recovered from a serious illness and has returned to her home in Alexander.

Mrs. Lewis Roberts of Franklin is improving after a recent severe operation.

Dr. J. M. Elder, a good friend of the hospital and William Reese, both of Franklin, brought the hospital a load of fine apples—many thanks, gentlemen.

Mrs. Fred Disk of South East street was operated on yesterday.

L. H. Whitlock of East Morton avenue is a patient at the hospital.

PLAN TO ASK FOR FOUR-YEAR MILITARY ENGINEERING COURSE

Proposal Provides That Graduates Be Taken Into the Army As a Second Lieutenant for One Year.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 30.—A committee from the association of land grant colleges and universities of the United States the chairman of which is President W. O. Thompson of Ohio State university is planning to appear before the military affairs committees of congress when it convenes, to ask the establishment of a four-year military engineering course course in a number of these schools. This proposed plan, it was explained today, provides that each graduate from this course be taken into the United States army as a second lieutenant for one year. At the end of that year he would would be mustered out, and placed in a first reserve, or re-enlisted for further army service.

Scores of letters of inquiry concerning this plan have been received by President Thompson and Edward Orton, Jr., dean of the engineering college of Ohio State, accredited with having originated the idea of the military engineering course, during the last weeks from officials of colleges in different parts of the country.

The University of Michigan has displayed special interest in establishing a military course there. Harvard and Yale have instituted courses in military lectures this year for the first time. State universities of Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas and Iowa are reported as having great renews of enthusiasm in military training.

College students in institutions where military training is provided have taken unprecedented interest in their drill and tactics study since school opened this fall owing to the European war's influence, according to the asertion of Capt. George L. Converse, U. S. A., retired, now commandant of the cadet regiment at Ohio State.

"Students, like other citizens, have awakened to the pressing need for military training as an important factor in national preparedness," said Capt. Converse. He explained he had been in touch recently with a number of colleges and universities which have military courses, and that the condition of renewed student interest in cadet work appeared to exist in all schools.

"Heretofore in such institutions as Ohio State University where military training for first and second year students is compulsory, there has been a pronounced tendency to regard it as a farce by some students," Capt. Converse added.

A WORTHY OCTOGENARIAN

John Barber, a Resident of the County Still Hale and Hearty at Eighty-One.

Among the visitors to the city yesterday was the venerable John Barber, who lives a short distance north of the city and was being carefully conducted around by a dutiful attendant.

Mr. Barber was born Nov. 26, 1834 in a log house standing just where now the grand opera house is situated and the county has been his residence ever since. He was a member of Co. C., 6th Illinois Cavalry, during the war of the rebellion and served faithfully two years when failing eye sight compelled him to return home much against his will. Since that time he has followed the occupation of a farmer as long as conditions would permit though his eyes which have never been strong are now sightless.

Mr. Barber was married June 5th, 1854 and lived with his devoted wife a little more than 61 years or until the 10th of last September, when she was taken from him. They were the parents of thirteen children, three of whom died in infancy and the oldest when still young. The survivors are George of Terre Haute, Ind., Mrs. Belle Parker of Lynnville, Edward of Peoria, Thomas and Willard of the north part of the county, Alfred of the south part, Mrs. Leonora Miller of Decatur, Mrs. Olive Buckley of Warrensburg.

Mr. Barber now lives with his son, Thomas who tenderly cares for his sightless parent in a faithful manner. Mr. Barber says in all his life he has had no illness worse than ague and except for his eyes has never employed a doctor. Although 81 years of age he is still hale and hearty and likely to live for a good many years to come.

A VALUED PICTURE.

When J. W. Galloway, now one of the substantial citizens of Woodson precinct, was a member of the 10th Illinois Cavalry doing duty at Little Rock, Ark., in 1864, he stepped into a picture establishment and had a tintype taken of himself, full figure in uniform. He didn't place a great deal of value on it at the time and gave it to a friend who carefully preserved it, and a day or two since, thinking the original of the picture might value it more than himself, kindly sent it to Mr. Galloway who was indeed glad to get it.

He had it in the city yesterday and showed it to a Journal reporter who was much interested in it. One would hardly recognize the young man of the picture unless they had known the original all along. He was very good looking though at the time and means to have the picture enlarged for his family who will value it highly. He had also two Confederate bills of $100 each, thin paper, tattered and worn yet valuable as reminders of the strenuous days of the war.

STATE STREET CHURCH.

In the absence of the pastor, Dr. A. B. Morry will preach in the State Street Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Some Topics of the Farm

Advantage of Fall Plowing.

Fall plowing for corn and some other crops is urged by R. I. Throckmorton of the Kansas state agricultural college. He declares that one advantage is because the rough soil surface permits a rapid absorption of moisture and that snow is held more readily than on the smooth surface. Soil with a rough surface is not so likely to blow in the early spring months as one which has become smooth and compace. He says further that the weathering of the soil helps to liberate plant foods for the use of crops in the spring. He emphasizes especially that fields that have a heavy growth of weeds or straw or fodder should be plowed in the fall. The organic matter thus turned under will decay more rapidly during the winter months because of the soil moisture then, and the increase in the amount of organic matter in the soil is beneficial. It also produces an increase in the available nitrogen.

For land that is to be planted in corn the next year, deeper plowing is recommended than for small grains. Fall plowed land is left without further preparation until spring. Mr. Trockmorton advocates fall plowing as an aid in the economic distribution of farm labor.

"In Kansas, where we have the late mild falls, after the fall wheat seeding and corn picking is done, the farmer has the glorious 'Indian summer' for fall plowing," he says. "His horses are in good condition and he can do much plowing and have this work out of the way in the early weeks of the spring."

This enables earlier seeding in the spring and facilitates spring work all around. It saves overworking the horses and men to catch up with the rush of spring seeding.

Plowing under straw and all refuse in the fall is desirable, says Mr. Throckmorton. It helps to destroy the harbor for chinch bugs. It also exposes grasshopper eggs deposited in the soil for winter protection and hinders the next year's propagation of this pest.

Is Cribbing Corn.

J. W. Wilson, whose home is just west of the Point church, had about 145 acres in corn this year. Twenty-five acres was cut and shocked in order to make space for wheat planting. The 120 acres is to be shucked out and Mr. Wilson has already started that work. He believes that this corn is dry enough for cribbing if some care is used in doing the work. He would not want to put the corn into very tight cribs but where plenty of air will reach the grain he considers it safe to crib. Part of the corn from this farm will be sold to the elevator or some other feeder later in the season.

Usually Mr. Wilson feeds practically all of his entire crop but this year he hasn't as many hogs as in the past. His drove includes 66 hogs which now weight from 100 to 120 lbs. They are already on full feed and he expects to give them corn until they reach aweight of 200 lbs. If market condition at that time are as favorable as now he will sell the hogs and otherwise will feed them for a longer period. He has sometimes fed hogs with satisfactory results until they weighed an average of 275.

Will Feed Hogs.

F. L. Green, living not far from Strawn's Crossing, has 70 acres in corn this year and has already begun the work of shucking. He finds a little of the corn is sappy but the plan he is following is to scatter the corn well in a large crib, and he believes that by doing this work slowly that the cribbing can be safely done. Mr. Green believes that his corn will average 60 bushels to the acre, altho the land has been in corn for a number of years. He expects to feed the 40 hogs he has on hand and will sell the remainder. The hogs now average about 125 lbs, and he ordinarily feeds until the animals weigh 200 or 225.

J. R. Hembrough of the Asbury neighborhood, has been successful and constant feeder for a great many years. Mr. Hembrough does not believe in feeding during the winter season and his plan has always been to purchase cattle early in the spring and feed them for a period of four to six months. In this way he gets good gains without having to take the cattle thru the cold season and thru a long term of months. His corn this year is not quite ready for cribbing but as soon as it dries out somewhat will be shucked out ready for feeding the coming spring.

Last year Mr. Hembrough fed four carloads of cattle that he purchased in St. Louis. Usually he buys cattle in Chicago but on account of quarantine restrictions last year it was necessary for him to buy in some other market. The cattle he purchased weighed about 800 lbs. and were thin and could be classed as either feeders or stockers. They cost him $7.50 a hundred last March. When he sold them in September in Chicago they averaged 1300 lbs. and brought $9.75. This 83 head of cattle, together with 75 head of hogs were all fed in a pasture 37 1-2 acres in extent. Each steer received an average ration of a third of a busnel of corn a day and 2 lbs. of oil meal.

Mr. Hembrough always weighs out the feed for his cattle and knows exactly what he is giving them. He thoroly believes in the use of oil meal and has found that even at the varying prices one must pay for it that the results amply justify its use. When the cattle first reach the Hembrough farm from market early in the spring they eat any fodder or damaged hay there may be on the place and a little later are turned into the pasture and when the ration of corn and meal begins. There are no trees in this pasture, but at one side the hedge has been allowed to grow to a great height so that the shade is ample. When the cattle were sold in September the hogs went with them and weighed an average of 325 lbs. The receipts from the hogs totaled $1,500 and they had received no corn except the wastage from the cattle "feed bunk." Every one of the hogs grew on Mr. Hembrough's farm.

Three years ago Mr. Hembrough had five car loads of cattle which he handled in the same way and with even better results. They were bought at a very low price and made a gain in a little over five months of 600 lbs. each. When they reached the market there were many show cattle there and the Hembrough cattle brought on the market 30c a hundred more than some of the cattle which had been fed especially for the market during a 16 month period. It is the short feed plan and that during which no cold weather is to be encountered which represents Mr. Hembrough idea of profitable feeding and his success year after year under vaying market conditions indicates that he has proven the theory.

Mr. Hembrough in talking about the apple crop yesterday said that one of his neighbors, O. B. Holmes, had delivered 500 bushels here in Jacksonville, and that E. R. Hembrough had delivered 600 bushels. He himself had brought in 300 bushels and everyone in the neighborhood has had some to sell. The crop in that locality as well as all over the country is the greatest recorded in fifteen or twenty years, and the quality is the finest.

PRESIDENT OF SANTA FE IS SEVENTY YEARS OLD

Dinner Given in Charge in Honor of Mr. Ripley—Road Has Grown Vastly During His Administration.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company, who was seventy years old today, said at a dinner given him tonight that he attributed whatever success he had made to the helpful influence of his wife, and the cordial support of the men and women who compose the Santa Fe family.

The dinner is said to have been notable in that it brought together more men prominent in the railroad world than ever before participated in a strictly social function. Three hundred guests were present and the banquet hall was decorated with plants and flowers from the thirteen states traversed by the Santa Fe. The speakers were the Rev. Barbard Kelly, of Topeka, Kan., an old friend of Mr. Ripley, who asked the blessing; Walker L. Hines, New York general counsel of the road and chairman of its board of directors, who acted as toastmaster; Charles S. Gleed, Topeko, a director and editor of the Kansas City Journal, who talked about the old Santa Fe and the new; Victor Morowetz, New York, a former director who was largely instrumental in reorganizing the road; Frank Trumbull, New York, chairman of the board of the Chesapeake and Ohio; George B. Harris, Chicago, chairman of the board of the Burlington road; Gardner Lathrop, Chicago, general solicitor of the Santa Fe, and Mr. Ripley who spoke last. Other guests included N. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsy; B. F. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific, W. W. Biddle, receiver for the St. Louis and San Francisco system; Theodore H. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company; W. G. Besler, president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph company; J. M. Hannaford, president of the Northern Pacific, and high officials from all over the Santa Fe system.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Rev. E. B. Houck spent Thursday in Virden, and Friday in Mason City. At both places he attended meetings of the district stewards and made brief talks at each place in the interest of the college. Dr. J. M. Rule was also in Mason City at the Stewards' meeting and gave a talk in the interest of the college.

Mr. F. M. Ferris of Danville was a visitor at the college Wednesday, calling on his daughter, Miss Adelaide.

The Academy students were entertained Monday night by a number of the teachers in expression hall. Many unique and interesting games were played, and light refreshments were served at the close of the entertainment.

The Theta Sigma Society held their annual banquet at the Colonial Inn Saturday night, October 30. This is an event that is always looked forward to with most pleasant anticipations by the members of the society, and a delightful time was enjoyed. The menu was excellent and the toasts were cleverly given.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

EDITOR J. W. HALE PRAISES TANLAC

Well Known Newspaper Man Obtains Relief From "Master Medicine."

WAS MUCH RUN DOWN

Men and women of prominence in almost every capacity are indorsing Tanlac and telling of the great benefit they have derived from the use of the "Master Medicine." J. W. Hale, a well known newspaper man, who is proprietor and editor of the New Berlin Tribune and who has resided for a great many years in New Berlin, Ill., made a most interesting statement regarding Tanlac. Mr. Hale said:

"I have been troubledd with nervousness for some time past. My condition worried me considerably, owing to my loss of sleep and my inability to give my business the proper attention. I had very little appetite and the food that I could eat did not agree with me.

"I have tried a great many remedies but nothing has given me the relief that Tanlac offered. Although I have used but one bottle my appetite is much better and I am getting the sleep at night that I have so much needed. Those troubled with nervousness or liver trouble should give Tanlac a trial for it has relieved me greatly and I am sure it will do the same for them."

Many others in Jacksonville and surrounding towns like Mr. Hale, men and women of undisputedd honor and veracity are testifying daily to the efficacy of Tanlac the "Master Medicine." It is being used by thousands with the most beneficial results for stomach, kidney and liver trouble. It is helping those who are taking it for nervousness catarrhal and bronchial troubles, loss of appetite, rundown system and lack of ambition. It is especially good as a tonic at this time.

RUB RHEUMATIC PAIN FROM ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism.

It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Adv.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative at Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cenlt bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION.

To Phoebe Mueller:

You are hereby notified there is pending in the Circuit Court of Morgan County, Illinois, on the Chancery side of the Docket, a Bill for Divorce, from you, as defendant by James Mueller, as complainant to the November Term, A. D., 1915, of said Court and that summons has been issued to you and James Mueller, Complainant, has filed an affidavit in this office that you can not be found, and that effort has been unavailing to locate you for years past.

You must appear on Monday, November 8th, 1915 at the Court House in Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois, either in person or by attorney, and plead, answer, or demur to the bill filed, or the same will be taken as confessed by you.

MAROONS OUTPLAY BADGERS AND WIN

EACH TEAM SCORES TWO TOUCHDOWNS.

Missed Goal with Simpson Kicking Accounts for the One Point Difference in Score—Illinois and Minnesota Play a 6 to 6 Tie.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—In one of the greatest upsets in conference history Chicago today, thru the spirit and dash of its backs and the stamina of its line claimed victory over Wisconsin's dreaded machine, 14 to 13. A missed goal from touchdown with Eber Simpson kicking accounted for the one point difference, for each team scored two touchdowns. The Maroons outplayed the Badgers in the finer points and outkicked them thru Russell, but nearly offset these advantages by some of the worst fumbling ever seen on Stagg field.

But the Badgers also fumbled and except in one or two instances failed to show the strong interference that has appeared previously. Wisconsin had far the better of the forward passes. Stagg's latent power was shown in the speed of his back field.

Smith and Byers made touchdowns for Wisconsin, Gordon and Russell for Chicago. Koch kicked one goal for the Badgers and Snull two for Chicago.

Illinois, 6; Minnesota, 6.

hampaign, Ill., Oct. 30.—Football teams from the Universities of Illinois and Minnesota played a six to six tie here today. In the fourth quarter, victory seemed well in the grasp of Minnesota when on the fourth down, on a wild pass by Watson, the Illinois center, the ball rolled own to the Illinois six yard line and a Minnesota player recovered it. Minnesota advanced to the one foot line but the Illinois line held the visitors for downs and Macomber punted out of danger. Minnesota pushed the ball over the Illinois line for its score within a few minutes of the start of play. In the second quarter the Illini strengthened their defense and Halstrom's long sprint made it possible for them to score. Clark and Macomber were stars for Illinois with Halstrom showing well and Klein, Pogue's understudy performing in excellent fashion. Wyman and Long were the best ground gainers for the visitors. There was an absence of spectacular plays.

Pogue, Illinois star half back, appeared on the sidelines but did not participate.

Harvard, 13; Penn State, 0.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 30.—With a stuborn defense in the danger zone and a sturdy but not brilliant offense, Harvard defeated Pennsylvania State College today, 13 to 0. One Crimson touhdown was the result of a muffed punt by Ewing in Penn's backfield the ball rolling over the goal line while the second score came on a well earned march of 50 yards, mostly on short plunges into the line. Except for this burst of speed in the third period the power of the Harvard offense was either lacking or kept from the eager gaze of Princeton scouts who attended the game.

The game was unusually long injuries and penalties being frequent.

Score:

Harvard	0	7	6	0	—13
Penn State	0	0	0	0	— 0

Princeton, 27; Williams, 0.

Princeton, Oct. 30.—Princeton defeated Williams here today in a football game marked by few features, 27 to 0.

Colgate, 15; Yale, 0.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—Colgate's unbeaten eleven played true to form today and had no difficulty in defeating Yale 15 to 0. Yale was outclassed completely and the score does not indicate the real strength of the visitors. The points came from two touchdowns—both made after sensational runs—and an easy goal from placement by West. Yale's attack was weak and spasmodic. While the Blue occasionally got within the scoring zone, Colgate's goal was never in danger.

The work of the Yale team was a distinct disappointment to its followers who had hoped that after the two previous defeats the eleven would begin to display form close to the Eli calibre.

Score:

Colgate	6	0	9	0	—15
Yale	0	0	0	0	— 0

Villa Nova, 16; West Point, 13.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The army was beaten by Villa Nova today 16 to 13 in a hard fought and cleanly contested game. The visitors outplayed the cadets at every angle except at punting, where Murrall had a shade the better of it.

The cadets showed flashes of offensive strength, notably in the second period, when they marched seventy yards for a score of short rushes thru the line. Score:

West Point	0	7	6	0	—13
Villa Nova	0	13	0	3	—16

N. C. Aggies, 14; Navy, 12.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 30.—North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College defeated Navy today 14 to 12. Straight football won for the visitors.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Mrs. Daniels witnesed the game. Score by periods:

N. C. A. & M.	7	7	0	0	—14
Navy	0	0	6	6	—12

Indiana, 7; W. and Lee, 7.

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—McIntosh aided by perfect interference wiggled the length of the field on the first kickoff scoring Indiana's only touchdown in the game with Washington and Lee today, which resulted in a 7 to 7 tie.

In the second the Virginias by a series of well executed forward passes tied the score.

Syracuse, 14; Michigan, 7.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 30.—A powerful offensive and the weakness of the Wolverine line gave Syracuse University a 14 to 7 victory over the University of Michigan football eleven here today. Syracuse made many fumbles, two of which came when the easterners had started marches towards Michigan's goal.

SPORTING NOTES.

With Jess Willard completing his Wild West show job today, and Moran looking him square in the eye, there is indication of ring action for the champion.

The Kentucky horses are already arrriving at the Juarez, Havana and New Orleans tracks for the winter racing.

Frank L. Kramer, the cycling champion, will be given a testimonial dinner at Newark tonight by admiring fellow-citizens of East Orange.

A six-day cycle race has been arranged for Chicago, from Nov. 19 to 25. Some of the leading riders are already paired up.

A hot bout is arranged for the Boston fight fans for next Tuesday, when Charlie White is matched to go against Milburn Saylor.

November has a number of dog shows scheduled. New York, Pittsburgh, Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Albany shows are already set.

The boxing tournament as a memorial to James E. Sullivan, long leader of amateur athletics, is having a two-night run in New York, ending this evening.

The third and final round in the Atlantic City gold tournament is set for today. An 18-hole medal handicap will be played today.

WAVERLY.

Mrs. T. H. Agnew of Jacksonville spent Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Allen.

H. C. Luken is in Arkansas this week, looking after farming interests.

Miss Grace Gillham of Lincoln is making a visit at the home of Mrs. Fannie Curtiss.

Mrs. R. E. Coe and two children are in Salina, Kas. for an extended visit at the home of Mrs. Coe's parents.

Rev. Sidney M. Bedford spent Thursday and Friday visiting friends at Eureka college.

Mrs. E. E. Pershall visited a few days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horton, being enroute to Champaign to join Mr. Pershall in enjoying the home-coming festivities. Her little daughter Dorothy is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Horton during her absence.

The Home Missionary society of the First M. E. Church gave a Hallowe'en birthday social Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Deatherage.

Mrs. Fannie Curtiss and Mrs. C. A. Carter have been selected as delegates to represent the Waverly Household Science club at the State Federation to be held in Rockford next month.

Mrs. Clarence Adams received first prize for the heaviest ear of corn in the contest put on by the Star store last week.

MAY SHIFT JERSEY STRIKE TRIALS.

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 30.—A hearing will be given next week on the application made to the Supreme Court Circuit for a change of venue in the suits brought by twelve wounded strikers against the American Agricultural Chemical Co., for injuries received in the strike troubles at Roosevelt, N. J., last year. It is asked by the strikers that the trials take place here instead of New Brunswick, because of the fact that the sheriff at New Brunswick, who would draw the jury had engaged the strike breakers who shot down the men. The hearing next week will be at Trenton.

Misses Laura and Catherine Hatfield of Howe street went Saturday to Concord to spend few days at the home of Miss Mary Titus.

FORREST PEARD IS PLAYING GREAT BALL

Local football enthusiasts will no doubt recall Forrest Peard, the brilliant end on the local I. S. D. eleven two years ago. Peard is now a student at Gallaudet College, Washington D. C., and reports come that he is paying a great game at end for that aggregation. In a recent game with the Carlisle Indians he made three touchdowns and otherwise distinguished himself. Frank Friday, the star of last years team at I. S. D. is now at Lansing, Mich., but hopes to enter Gallaudet next year.

Mrs. Lillie Taylor, District Deputy of the society of Royal Neighbors, who is in the city in the interest of local camp No. 171, is spending today at her home in Chandlerville.

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The following books have been added to the public library and will go into circulation this morning at nine o'clock:

History.

Babcock—Scandinavian Element in the U. S. Published by the University of Illinois in their studies in Social Sciences.

Lynch—Through Europe on the Eve of War. Includes an account of the first world conference of the churches for international peace. Book is a gift.

Norton—Attack and efense of Little Round Top, Gettysburg. Cyrus Townsend Brady says, 'No one will ever write a history of the battle of Gettysburg again without referring to your book. It is altogether admirable, a model for such a book.'

Music.

These books are gifts. They contain words and music:

Dahn—School Hymnal.
Hanson—Glee and Chorus Book.
New York Symphony Company—Instruments of the Orchestra.
Tomlins—Laurel Music Reader.

Regular Fiction.

Rinehart—K. A rent copy of this bok will also be ready on Saturday.

Shaw—Cashel Byron's Profession.

Rent Fiction.

Allen—Her Wings. The story of two leaders in the suffrage movement in a small New England town. Pleasant and wholesome.

Bassett—Taming of Zenas Henry. A homely appealing story of the kindness that grew and flourished in the lives of Zenas Henry, his wife, Abbie Brewster and the three captains, characters all.

Roland—The Good Shepherd. "A story of real characters and keen interest. The 'Good Shepherd' is a supersensitive young doctor who commands because he is cut off from his friends and because he fights a good fight in a quaint remote, uncared for village of the Austrian Tyrol which taxes all his strength, mental, moral and physical. He wins in the end through the aid of the very love in which he has lost faith."

WOMEN WEAK, RUN DOWN

Finds Health in a Simple Tonic.

People in Jacksonville will begin to believe us when we say that our delicious Vinol is a wonderful tonic and strength creator.

Here is another case where it has proved its wonderful power to overcome weak, run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions.

"I was run down, nervous, and could not do my work without being entirely exhausted, and would often faint without any apparent cause. The doctor said I was anaemic but failed to help me. My husband brought home a bottle of Vinol and I began to improve after taking one bottle, and after taking four bottles it has built me up so I can do all my housework without help. I recommended Vinol to a neighbor, who says her doctor approves of it and said 'Vinol is a wonderfully good tonic.'" Mrs. Bessie Hering, West Philadelphia, Pa.

We recommend Vinol to our customers as the greatest strength creator we know—due to the extractive medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil combined with peptonate of iron and beef peptone, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

Eczema Is Conquered

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size, get a bottle of zemo. When applied as directed, it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is dependable and inexpensive. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

Zemo, Cleveland.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

Oct. 31.

Hon. William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury in the cabinet of President Wilson, the son-in-law and right-hand man of the President is 52 years old today. Under his administration the currency and banking system of the country has been placed on a new basis with a minimum of friction during this important change. He has had his fights his victories and defeats. He is busying himself now with the new fight he will make to push the administration's ship measure in Congress. When he married the President's daughter, it was believed that he would retire from the Cabinet, but he has remained to aid the President in carrying on the vast amount of work needed to secure legislation. Secretary McAdoo was born near Marietta, Ga., October 31, 1863. His first government service was as deputy clerk in a court, when he was 19. He was graduated from the University of Tennessee and practiced law in Chattanooga until he moved to New York in 1892. Continuing the legal profession there, he became interested in tunnel construction. He was president of the Hudson River and Manhattan R. R., which completed the first tunnel under the Hudson River, in 1904. He financed the building of several other tunnels, involving sixty millions of dollars. The success of these big undertakings brought him into public notice. He was acting chairman of the Democratic National Committee during the campaign of President Wilson, and was tendered the portfolio of the Treasury in recognition of his financial abilities. Last year he married one of President Wilson's daughters. His first wife was Sarah Hazelhurst Fleming of Chattanooga. Mr. McAdoo has a beautiful town house in Washington, and has summer homes in the Adirondacks and on the Maine coast.

Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, 51 years old today.

Dr. Charles A. Perkins, physicist of the University of Tennessee, 57 years old today.

Houston B. Teehee, the new register of the Treasury, Washington, 41 years old today.

Major General James B. Aleshire, Quarter Master General, U. S. A., 59 years old today.

Wilbur J. Carr, director of the United Statts consular service, 45 years old today.

CHOOSING MUTTON.

Rules to Guide Those Who Want to Be Careful Buyers.

Mutton is generally considered the most healthful meat and is eaten by many to the exclusion of any variety, consequently great care should be exercised in the selection, and a little time should be given to the study of quality.

In buying mutton or lamb care should be taken to see that the fat is clear, hard and white, as mutton with soft or yellow fat indicates too long a stay in cold storage. It might appear that a great quantity of fat on mutton signifies waste, but the lean part is much juicier and more tender when this is the case, so the wise housewife makes purchases with this in view.

The leg has the least fat in proportion to weight. Next comes the shoulder. The color of lean mutton is a deep red.

Lamb is good to eat when a year old and is much more digestible than other immature meat, such as veal or young pork. The wise housewife knows the value of nutrition, so she will hesitate about buying lamb merely because it is in the market, as it is generally expensive.

The meat of spring lamb should be a clear pink, with plenty of pure white fat.—New York Sun.

FIRST ARMY MEDAL.

It Was Issued After Cromwell Defeated the Scots In 1650.

The first medal issued as a reward for military service was struck by order of parliament to celebrate a victory of English troops over the Scotch.

When the news reached London that Cromwell had defeated the Scots at Dunbar on Sept. 3, 1650, the house of commons instructed Thomas Simon, chief engraver to the mint, to proceed to Edinburgh and design a medal in honor of the event, of which a leading feature should be a portrait of the victorious general.

The result was a lifelike portrait of Cromwell in profile, and over his head is engraved the battle cry of his ironsides, "The lord of hosts." On the reverse there is a wonderful representation in miniature of the house of commons in session. This medal was given to all officers and privates alike who fought in Scotland, but this democratic practice was discontinued till revived in 1815 at the suggestion of the Duke of Wellington for the troops under his command at Waterloo.—London Telegraph.

Antiquity of Fishing.

Probably no branch of industry can lay claim to greater antiquity than that of fishing. Its origin would seem to be coeval with the earliest efforts of human ingenuity, for the oldest monuments of antiquity show the fisherman in full possession of the implements of his calling, and even those tribes of savages which have learned neither to keep flocks nor to till the fields are skilled in the fabrication of the hook, the fish spear and the net. The earliest civilization of the eastern Mediterranean was begun with fishing. Sidon, which means "fishery," was originally a fishing village, and its enterprising inhabitants devoted their attention mainly to the collection of a certain kind of mollusks, from which they prepared the famous tyrian purple, prized more highly for the richness and variety of its hues than any other dye known to the ancients.

Women Author's Pen Names.

Among the noted women authors who wrote under pen names are the following: Mrs. Mary Ann Evans Cross as George Eliot, Baroness Dudevant as George Sand, Klara Mundt as Louise Muhlbach, Mrs. Craik as Miss Mulock, Charlotte Bronte as Currer Bell, Emily Bronte as Alice Bell, Mrs. Sarah Parton as Fanny Fern, Abigail Hamilton Dodge as Gail Hamilton, Mrs. Lippincott as Grace Greenwood, Mrs. Terhune as Marion Harland, Louise de la Ramee as Ouida, Sarah Smith as Hesba Stretton, Susan Warner as Elizabeth Wetherell, Miss Murfree as Charles Egbert Craddock, Alice French as Octave Thanet, Mrs. Elizabeth Akers Allen as Florence Percy, Laura C. Reddon as Howard Glyndon, Miss Woolsey as Susan Coolidge.

As to Insults.

The quotation "No gentleman would insult me; none other can," is credited to John Quincy Adams, who is said to have made the reply when he was told that a man had spoken to him so rudely that he ought to send a challenge to a duel, and it is said also to have been used by Senator W. H. Seward in a debate growing out of the assault upon Senator Sumner by Preston Brooks in 1856, but it is pointed out that the quotation

A moral, sensible, well bred man
Will not affront me, and no other can is to be found in William Cowper's "Conversation."—Boston Globe.

Those Were the Times.

"The first of our line, Sir Higgledy Piggledy, founded the family fortunes with a grist mill he ran."

"When did he run this grist mill?"

"Back in 1560 or thereabouts."

RAN OFF CULVERT.

While driving his automobile on the Sandusky road Saturday evening Harry Ogle ran off of a culvert. Mrs. Ogle and daughter were in the car but fortunately all escaped injury. The car was somewhat damanged and it required the help of residents in the vicinity to get the car back on the highway. Mr. Ogle was getting ready to make the ascent of a hill and turned out to pass a buggy going in the same direction. He was nearer to the culvert than he thought and was unable to get back on the road.

THE SALVATION ARMY

This is the fiftieth year of the Salvation Army and as has been the custom for a long period, the army is making a special appeal in preparation for the Christmas time. It is the purpose of the local corps according to Capt. Mace, to provide Christmas cheer for the poor and needy of Jacksonville. To that end the matter is now brought thus early to attention so that the people of the city may remember to give what and they can to the army, especially for the Christmas fund. Capt. Mace has supplied the following article concerning the general work of the army:

The Salvation Army is the most extensive and the most unique of Christianity's charitable enterprises. It opens its doors and its heart to all people who need its aid—Christians, Jews, Mohammedans, those of no religion, thoses who oppose all religion. And yet its purpose is first and always religious, and all its ministrations are performed frankly in the name of Jesus Christ.

The Salvation Army, organized on military lines, has developed and employs all the efficiency of a disciplined military organization, yet it works to heal instead of to wound, to lift the burden of fear instead of to repress by intimidation, to save human life instead of to destroy it, and to bring joy into human hearts instead of to break them. It feeds instead of plundering, leads gently instead of driving, and builds up instead of tearing down. But toward the evil forces of sin—wrong thinking, wrong impulses, wrong conduct—it turns a force bent on annihilation, not of the sinner, but of the sin.

It has had a wonderful history. No other modern form of organized religion had so humble a birth, yet in the lifetime of its founder it had attained a universality gained by but few other movements. It has made its way by sheer merit of results past the opposition, vulgar and refined, of the low and of the high to the recognition and honor and admiration of the leaders of thought and of heart of all nations. Its work has spread to almost every nation of the earth. In spirit, in zeal and in efficiency it has steadily advanced at an accelerating pace. accomplish these vast results it has taken multitudes of men and women in all the varying degrees of sin and degradation, and has made them happy and useful citizens and zealous workers for the uplifting of their former associates. It has attracted to its ranks and provided with an immense field of usefulness thousands of consecrated Christians, and has made them more than friends to those who were worse than friendless. It has caused the cry of hunger and despair to bt heard at the gates of peace and plenty.

It has taken thousands of women out of the foulest mire of degraded womanhood, and has lifted them to the peace and purity of wifehood and motherhood. It has taken men who had lost their courage and self-respect and infused into them a new life, and has created new ideals of citizenship.

It has found or provided useful work for vast numbers of the unemployed whose families were waiting in want. It has restored to home and kindred thousands of missing friends and relatives. And it has kindled love for God in the hearts of countless numbers in whom spiritual darkness reigned. It has taught myriads of children in their earliest years to choose the paths of virtue and faith and love.

The Salvation Army has done these things in the past; but, emphatically, is doing them today, and more earnestly, more thoroughly and more effectively today than at any time in the past. In order to accomplishs these vast results it has built up many and varied institutions—Industrial Homes, Rescue Homes, Children's Homes, Slum Settlements, Shelters and Hotels for men and women, Maternity Hospitals, Fresh-air Camps and halls for the religious instruction of the poor.

But now The Salvation Army sends up a great cry for help—a cry that must, they earnestly trust, be heard by those who are able to give largely to humanitarian and spiritual work.

Turning from the need for funds, from the pictures of sorrow and suffering and helplessness of those poor and unfortunate members of the community, The Salvation Army looks toward the more highly favored portions of society and sees a waste which would, if turned into the right channels, do away with want. It sees great fortunes bequeathed to ungrateful relatives, and to grateful relatives far in excess of their possible need or possible use, and it thinks of whole groups of families too poor to bury their dead, even by combining their resources. It sees millions given to monuments, museums and projects of doubtful or remote value, and think of the great need for Rescue Homes, Maternity Hospitals, Industrial Homes, Orphanages, Nurseries and Shelters for homeless men and Homes for friendless girls. It sees the carelessly spent dollar of the pampered youth, and thinks of the starving family in the basements of the slum tenements. It sees the waste food from the tables of the overfed and thinks of the emaciated invalid crying for the morsel which poverty denies. It sees wardrobes bulging with a surplus of seldom used garments and thinks of shivering men, women and children with nothing but scant rags to clothe them. It sees money lavished on pleasure tours and thinks of children who have never known the meaning of play, nor seen the open country—baby fingers picking out basting threads ten hours a day, with no time for the simplest of toys.

The Salvation Army lifts its voice to God, who knows the secrets of all hearts, understands the springs of all action and the outcome of all tendencies, and cries out for "money" to help carry forward its great work for uplifting these ill-favored ones into the sunlight of a better day, and into that hope of immortality which alone makes hard lives seem worth while.

Rheumatism Easily Relieved By Cleansing the Blood

S. S. S. Gives Quick Relief by Toning Up the Blood

Yes, but how? A natural question. The answer is that you must cleanse your blood by stimulating it to healthy, vigorous action, so that it will throw off the germs and impurities that cause Rheumatism. The action of the wonderful blood purifier, S. S. S. is to practically renew the life blood, give it vigor, stimulate the flow making it throw out the germs and the poison impurities. The excruciating pains of Rheumatism, whether it is the shooting, stabbing Sciatica, the gripping agony of muscular Rheumatism, or aching arms and legs that break up sleep will be entirely relieved by S. S. S. Don't use nostrums and drugs. Take the blood bath—Nature's blood tonic S. S. S. Get it at any druggist, but insist upon S. S. S. Let us tell you about blood diseases. Agriculture in Illinois

JOHN FLETCHER
Vice-President Fort Dearborn National Bank, Chicago

Agriculture is the art of cultivating the ground. It includes the art of preparing the soil, the sowing and planting of seeds, removing the crops and also raising and feeding of cattle and other live stock. This art is the basis of all other arts and in all countries coeval with the first dawn of civilization. The vast territory of the United Staes presents every variety of soil and climate. Its agriculture embraces all the products of European civilization.

Unpreparedness in National Food Production.

Te United States today is facing an agricultural crisis. Not only are we confronted by an era of extraordinary high prices for foodstuffs, but also by an economic revolution growing out of this abnormal condition. The population of the country is growing by leaps and bounds; the demands of other nations for our products are becoming more and more insistent. Instead of meeting these conditions with increased farm crops, we are going backward. Here is a cause worthy of our mightiest effort, not only to meet this call from foreign lands, but to save ourselves. No greater, no more important, no more far-reaching work lies before the leaders of this nation today than the upbuilding of our agriculture in all its phases. It means the very life of our nation, the perpetuity of our government. Increasing shortage and continued rising of prices of foodstuffs inevitably develops a precarious economic condition, tending toward social disturbances and the encouragement of political radicalism.

An Agricultural Emergency Exists.

Let Illinois, the heart of the great agricultural section of the Nation, lift the standard for agricultural progress; let us show the county that by centralized, co-ordinated effort we can increase our farm yield many fold; let us lead the way in safeguarding our national prosperity. The United States government is spending millions and devoting the energies of an entire department of the federal service to educate the rural population of this country to greater effort. Do you realize the emergency that actually exists? Within thirty years from 1880 to 1910 our rural population has fallen from 70.5 to 53.7 per cent (official report last U. S. Census). Production per acre in all but three of our ten most important crops has decreased. Wheat in ten years has dropped 32 per cent. corn 14.4 per cent. Our beef supply has fallen off 30 per cent. A prominent congressman told Congress that "We must learn to produce more and accustom ourselves to eat less." This is only one remedy—to increase our acreage and our yield per acre.

The Soil Must be Improved.

A fertile soil means a prosperous people. Two things are required to make a great nation—a fertile soil and an energetic, progressive people. There was a time, when land was cheap and soil fertility unimpaired, when the population was small and land plentiful. when taxes were low and prices high, then anyone could "make a living" on a farm. Today more thought, more brains, keener judgment and closer application are essential to the success of the modern farmer than in almost any other business. We cannot afford to make mistakes. What we do in the next generation will have a determining effect upon the agricultural customs and practices for succeeding centuries. The care of the soil is the problem of the farmer today. It is up to him to produce the necessities of life in quantities sufficient to meet ever-growing demands. We must improve the soil. There are no longer vast tracts of fertile prairie which the government can open up to cultivation at nominal cost. Not only we ourselves, but future generations, must live from the soil now under cultivation.

Live Stock Industry Affects Welfare of Everyone.

The problem before up is constructive—how best to build up our agricultural interests. The live stock industry deserves our first attention. There is no industry which affects so vitally the welfare of all the people of this country as does the live stock industry. It is the foundation of individual and national prosperity. Whatever injuries this industry or retards its development reacts either directly or indirectly against the welfare of every person, and we owe it to ourselves to understand something of its magnitude, its development and the problems which now confront it. The oldest single industry in existence is that of supplying the world with meat. The greater portion of crops grown from the soil at the present itme are fed to live stock. Crop growing is, therefore, in a large present time are fed to live stock. production. On January 1. 1915, the live stock industry of this country represented an investment of six billion dollars. In the last three years with a large shrinkage in the number of head the value has increased a billion dollars. The number of beef cattle has decreased from 51,500,000 head on January 1, 1907 to 37,067,000 head on January 1, 1915. At the same time the value has increased from $881,550,000 to $1,237,376,000 or $355,826,000.

There are three decisive steps in the campaign which has already been inaugurated. First in publicity. showing the need, desire and method. Next is financing, with an assurance of the necessary capital to enable farmers to make the turn from single crops or from less important agricultural scemes to the production of beef animals and live stock generally. Then we have the work of the producer, and to gain the best results it will be necessary to have small or medium-sized beef herds on the thousands of farms throughout the central west, and in fact ,all over the country.

Meat Deficiency.

A study of this situation will show a splendid opportunity to improve the economic conditions of the United States. Perhaps all of you know that we have ceased to be a live beef-exporting nation. It was a shocking commentary upon our practical sense as an agricultural people that last year we were obliged to import thousands of tons of dressed meats from countries which were able to meet our deficiencies. In maintaining a balance of trade beef should rank as one of our greatest staples, like pork, grain, cotton and fruit. The world of commerce now cries out against our wasted opportunities and points to the high level of prices for meat animals, as well as for all other farm supplies to prove that agriculture in this country should make the greatest possible output of live stock. The great war has brought America's industrial possibilities into a plainer view, and the whole civilized world is appealing to the United States for a larger production of all the great staples of life.

Corn land values are high because of the fact that over 80 per cent of the corn produced is fed to live stock. The great market for corn, therefore, is live stock; and to maintain the present price of corn belt farms and make them even more valuable a healthy condition in the live stock industry is imperative. The farmer who thinks he cannot afford to feed his corn on $200 an acre land evidently does not realize that if all farmers acted upon that idea the price of his land would be reduced to the level of values in regions where they have no choice but to grow small gains exclusively.

Live Stock Raised From Farm Wastes

The State of Illinois has 251,000 farms. valued with farm property at approximately $3,900,000,000. On these farms we have live stock amounting to nearly $350,000,000. Our annual crop production is now approximately $500,000,000. With these vast figures the importance of the agricultural problem may be appreciated but a study of the situation will reveal that our results are insignificant in comparison to our opportunities. Illinois has 2,187,000 cattle of which 1,180,000 are beef cattle, an average of less than five to each farm. It will be readily admitted an average of three more calves could be produced to the age of yearlings on every farm in Illinois out of what is being wasted on the farms of the state today. This would mean over 750,000 head of yearling cattle with aconservative value of $50 per head on present market prices, or $37,500,000 additional wealth.

Our people with the possible exception of Australia are the greatest meat eaters in the world, which means that this great demand from 100,000,000 people is at our gates. It is time for economy, the elimination of waste and improved methods. Railroads, packers, stock yard companies, and business men, generally, are all vitally interested and the producer has the right to expect the strongest kind of co-operation from them. If the producer goes down, they all go with him.

Other States Gaining on Illinois.

Last year Ohio produced 55 bushels of corn to the acre; Wisconsin produced 40 bushels to the acre; Iowa produced 38 bushels to the acre. and yet we in Illinois, in the heart of the corn belt, averaged last year only 29 bushels to the acre. A 15-year-old boy in South Carolina—a state far removed from the corn belt—raised over 228 bushels on one acre. Another boy in Alabama topped this with nearly 233 bushe's on one acre. The whole south has awakened to the possibilities of the corn crop thru the exploits of these lads, and unless we wake up, our prized heritage of high priced corn lands wil be stolen from us.

Soil Conservation.

Legislation—Our biggest problem is the conservation of the soil. In this country we have only two parties interested in the production of a crop—the landlord and the tenant. In Europe this is not true; there is a third party—the soil. Its rights are voiced by Imperial edict. Here the state has no control over the soil. History tells us that the great human migratory tides that shook Europe in the middle ages were due to that constant search for "beter lands." Similar movements were those which sent our pioneers across the Alleghenies to settle new lands in the west. The 19th Century American Farmer Pioneer was a power in his day. He did his work well—clearing the forests, building homes, laying roads, settling the wilderness. Care of the soil was not his problem, but it is the problem, but it is the problem of the farmer of today.

Future Greatness of Illinois Depends on Agriculture.

Why do we emphasize the agricultural possibilities of the state more strongly than its many other resources? Because therein lies your future greatness. Your mining interests will continue and may increase; the development of your waterways is in its infancy. Manufacturing will assume much greater importance, but progress in all these lines must be and will be overshadowed by your progress in agriculture. No state is more richly endowed. The greatest market in the world within its limits, a vast and rich farming country surrounding; ample transportation facilities, large jobbing interests, great coal fields. With such an endowment who dares name the limit to the growth, the prosperity and the beneficient influence of this state. We should always stand in the front rank of grain producing states, our farming should be diversified, each section or half section should have its proper complement of live stock, which in aggregate number will far surpass the range herds and flocks of the past. Then will our railroads, manufactories, banks and general business prosper; then will the hungry millions look to Illinois for food and other supplies and bright robed in the garments of plenty ever generously will she respond to their calls.

WHITE PLAGUE EXPERTS MEET.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—A conference of the members of the National Asociation for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis opened here today, to complete the arrangements for the national observance of Tuberculosis Day on December 8th.

The national society gained its idea of making a survey of the nation from the work done in Michigan under the direction of Dr. V. C. Vaughn, of the State Medical Society.

It is planned to induce the public and the physicians to cooperate on National Tuberculosis Day to gain definite information of the number of cases of the white plague in every community, the death rate from the disease in each place. and data as to the measures taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Mansfield have gone to their home in Scottville, Macoupin County, after a visit at the home of Mr. Mansfield's sisters, Mrs. J. R. Peaker. at 1117 East Independence avenue.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

There will be a students' recital next Saturday afternoon, November 6th, at three o'clock, in Recital Hall.

Mrs. Wilson is in Chicago for Sunday to hear Frieda Hempel and to meet her former pupil, Mabel Preston Hall, who has returned from Germany for rehearsals with the Chicago Grand Opera Company. Miss Hall will take some minor roles in thet Nibelungen Trilogy and will understudy the roles of Bruennhilde and Isolde.

Mr. Dean Cochran and Mrs. Julian Hall appeared in concert at the Christian church, Roodhouse, Friday evening, October 29. Both had excellent success, being obliged to respond to encores for each group given by them. Mr. Munger accompanied Mr. Cochran.

The Phi Omega society held a meeting in Recital Hall last Tuesday afternoon at four. The program consisted of a vocal solo by Earl Pond, a violin solo by Mabel Forrester and Current Events, a paper, by Miss Nelle Self. After the meeting a picnic was held by the society at Nichols Park.

Miss Mabel Forrester will play a violin solo at the Sunday evening meeting of the Epworth League in Grace church. She will also play at a special service in the Christian church Tuesday evening, Nov. 2.

Miss Rebecca Scheibel gave a song recital last Monday evening in Chapin at the house of Mr. Bernard Allen.

Mr. Kritch will conduct the Conservatory orchestra at the benefit concert in the opera house next Wednesday evening, November 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Ferrandes and children from north of the city were xxpected to spend today at the home of Mrs. Fernandes sister, Mrs. D. G. Fernandes, 631 Myrtle street.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

BRISK DEMAND FOR RAILWAY AND INVESTMENT SHARES CONTINUES

Stocks Are Strong from the Outset —War Shares Are Most Conspicuous in the Initial Dealings.

New York, Oct. 30.—There was a continuance today of the brisk demand for railway and other investment shares which market yesterday's sessions. Stocks were strong from the outset, tho receding fractionally at inervals under heavy profit-taking. Total sales exceeded 70,000 shares with a broader distribution of operations.

War shares were most conspicuous in the initial dealings but that group gave way to such seasoned shares as the Harrimans and Hills, Nolfolk and Western, New York Central, Reading and Chesapeake and Ohio. U. S. Steel was again the cynosure of speculative attention opening with 7,50 shares at 88, an advance of a half point and its maximum since 1910.

Later it made a further gain to 88¼ but at that level enormous selling orders stopped the rise. Steel closed at 87⅞ but some private sales at a slight advance over that price were reported after the session's close.

Metal shares were in further demand. Anaconda Copper advancing to the new high price of 83⅞. Utah inspiration Guggenheim were active at moderate advances. Unofficial quotations showed another advance in the price of refined copper here and abroad.

Automobile stocks afforded some diversion, eGneral Motors rising almost 10 points to the new record of 395 and Willys-Overland rose 12 to 262. Maxwell's, Studebaker, Baldwin Locomotive and General Electric gained 2 to 3 points. Bethlehem Steel was again reactionary, a single sale of 100 shares showing a loss of 15¾ at 524¾.

There was a sudden renewal of weakness in exchange, demand sterling losing most of its recent recovery on the withdrawal of important buying interests.

RECORD BREAKING RECEIPTS LEAD TO PRESSURE ON WHEAT

Close is Unsettled at 7-8 to 1 1-8 Cents Net Lower—Corn and Oats Lower.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Record breaking receipts led to a good deal of bear pressure today on wheat. Largely in consequence the market, which closed unsettled was ⅞c to 1@1⅛c net lower, with December at $1.01¾ and May at $1.03⅛. Corn lost ⅛@¼c to ⅜c and May oats ⅛@¼c to ¼c. In provisions the outcome varied from 47½c declined to a rise of 77½c.

According to figures which were posted about an hour after the opening the receipts for the week at the leading domestic centers exceeded in size any former total. In this connection, the fact was pointed out that Winnipeg arrivals too shattered all previous marks. Ideal weather had given the market a downward slant nearly from the outset but now the decline became much more pronounced, especially as signs pointed to a liberal increase of the visible supply on Monday.

Asertions that Roumania would join the Anglo-French allies counted to some extent in favor of the wheat bears and so also did reports of the dispatch of Russian forces to invade Bulgaria from the east. On the other hand little was heard of export demand although some business was put thru.

Fine weather that implied larger receipts tended to ease the corn market. Oats gave way a trifle with corn and wheat.

Realizing sales by longs weakened provisions.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

London—Lady Scott, the widow of the explorer, has completed three months of manual labor in the munition works at Erith. She leaves her bed at five each morning, and makes the trip from her home in Buckingham Palace road to the munition factory in time to report for duty at seven. There she works with other women until six at night.

"I am simply 'helping,'" she says, "because I want to be of service in some way. I am in the electrical department, and have to wind electric coils. I take the same hours as the other workers, and would not miss my work now for the world."

Boston—A mother's preseverance was awarded in the courts of Japan last week when the district court of Tokio awarded Mrs. John Ellis of Boston the custody of her nine-year-old daughter, Olga. The little girl had been kidnapped by her father to Japan, after the mother had been given the child in. Massachusetts Mrs. Ellis traced her husband and the litle girl to Japan, after she had been liberated fro an insane asylum into which hshe had been thrust by her husband. The husband was formerly a minister, and is now an instructor in Tokia.

Chicago—Miss Helen N. Nicholson, who was married on Tuesday at Fort Sheridan to Herbert H. T. Crean, is on her way to England with her new husband to begin a new chapter in her romantic career. She first met Crean in Manila two years ago, when her father, Col. Nicholson, U. S. A., now commandant at Fort Sheridan, was serving in the Philippines. Crean's father was formerly commander of a British territorial regiment, and the young man was tendered his services in war. His bride will offer herself for hospital work to be near him.

New Haven, Conn—Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the former president, is another member of the Taft family to become connected with Yale. She intends taking a doctor's degree, and has joined the first-year class in the graduate school. She was graduated from Bryn Mawr last June, and judging from the talent she displayed in writing it is probables he will seek her Yale degree in literature or history. It is expected that she will take her degree in June, 1918, the same year that her younger brother, Charles Phelps Taft, 2nd, hopes to get his A. B.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

An oil portrait of Asa Turner, a member of the "Yale Band", was recently presented to the college by his son, Asa Turner, of Farrar, Ia. The formal exercises of presentation will be held in the college chapel, Tuesday morning, Nov. 9th. Mr. Turner will be present, and make the presentation address. President Rammelkamp will reply on behalf of the college. The program will be devoted to the history of the "Yale Band", with special reference to the work of Asa Turner. Other details will be announced later. A special effort will be made to secure the presence of as large a number as possible of the members of the families of the "Yale Band", and of other founders and friends of the college.

The Hon. William Mather Lewis, secretary of the Navy League of the United States, will deliver an illustrated lecture on the United States Navy, in the college chapel Friday evening, Nov 12. Admission will be free, and the public is cordially invited.

The Reverend Mr. Madden of Grace church will address the students at the chapel exercise Tuesday morning.

A special series of religious meetings will be held under the auspices of the Devotional association and the Y. W. C. A., during the week of December 5 to 11. "Dad" Elliott, one of the best known college Y. M. C. A. secretaries of the middle west, will be one of the speakers. It is hoped that the Reverend George N. Luccock of Oak Park, and the Reverend W. H. Crothers of Philadelphia, will also assist in the meetings. At the request of the student religious organizations, the faculty voted to allow additional time at each chapel exercise in connection with these meetings.

The senior class has voted to present to the college a Ginkgo tree as a class memorial. The tree will be set out some time this fall.

THE GRIP THAT HOLDS

THE scientific shaping of the Firestone Non-Skid tread insures that you get all your money out in actual service.

Right-angled against skid in any direction, this massive good-measure tread affords maximum safety as well as multiplied mileage. And only the powerful Firestone body could sustain the bulk and holding strain of the Firestone Non-Skid tread.

All this good-measure building is part of the Universal Service of Firestone Tires for any demand of road or season.

EAST ST. LOUIS WINS FROM JACKSONVILLE

VISITORS ANNEX CONTEST BY SCORE OF 33 TO 0.

Southern Illinois Lads Pile up Twenty-seven Points in the First Half —J. H. S. Played Better Ball in Second Half But Were Unable to Score.

East St. Louis' foot ball team won a victory from Jacksonville high on Illinois field yesterday afternoon by a score of 33 to 0. Jacksonville was swept off their feet from the very start when the visitors went over the line for a touchdown after two minutes of play. Unfortunately for Jacksonville, King, who was playing left tackle, was injured in the first play and had to be taken from the game. East St. Louis battered away unmercifully at the Jacksonville line and touchdowns were scored in succession during the first half of the game.

Jacksonville did not seem to come to themselves until the second half, when they played the visitors to a standstill, allowing them only one touchdown during the entire half. Had Jacksonville displayed its form in the first part of the game as it did in the last, the score would have looked entirely different.

The visiting team outweighed the locals by several pounds and has the advantage of several old players on their squad. They play snappy football and ran their formation in good style. They also had the forward pass down and used it for big gains on the J. H. S. men. Bell, their center, was one of their good players but their star man was Godejohn, who played left half. He was a hard man to stop and whenever he carried the ball it meant big gains. Carroll was also a good ground gainer, and Dunham seemed to have a good hold on the steering wheel.

The Reynolds boys made some brilliant plays for the Jacksonville eleven and Herring showed up in good form. Ramey played his first game and gave a good account of himself. Jacksonville's other end, Fierke, mixed up the visitors very cleverly on several occasions, and the local lads in the second half of the game displayed the best form so far witnessed on the local pasture.

There was not a very big crowd out to witness the contest, but those who were there did some fine cheering for the team. The Jacksonville high school band enlivened the occasion with their music. Next Saturday Jacksonville goes to Beardstown for a game which promises to be akin to that one played in Springfield.

How the Scores Were Made.

The game started with Jacksonville kicking off to East St. Louis. After carrying the ball back 10 yards East St. Louis followed up with a forward pass to Bell, netting 30 yards. The ball was handed to Carrol and the second time he carried it went over for a touchdown after two minutes of play. Carrol kicked goal. Score 7 to 0.

East St. Louis again kicked to Jacksonville, Howard Reynolds receiving the ball on the 45 yard line. At this juncture King, left tackle on the Jacksonville team, was injured and he wass replaced by Miller. Jacksonville was held for downs. After two short gains by East St. Louis Godejohn made a long run of 40 yards, following it up by a touchdown two minutes later. Carrol failed to kick goal, score 13 to 0.

East St. Louis kicked off again, Jacksonville returning the ball only a short distance. The local lads were unable to make their downs, East St. Louis holding them on the 30 yard line. After two line plunges the visitors sent Bell around the end for a third touchdown. Carrol kicked goal. Score 20 to 0.

East St. Louis again kicked off to Jacksonville's 30 yard line, the locals returning the ball for 10 yards. Homer Reynolds was sent around the end for a 20 yard gain and Herring made a line plunge of five yards. East St. Louis got busy and held Jacksonville for downs on 40 yard line, and after the ball was chased up and down the field for three minutes, the quarter ended with the ball in East St. Louis' possession on the 45 yard line.

In the second quarter East St. Louis opened up with some stiff playing, Carrol, Godejohn and Dunham carrying the ball for big gains. They marched the oval down the field in quick fashion, Fletcher going over for the touchdown. Carrol kicked goal. Score 27 to 0.

East St. Louis again kicked off to Jacksonville. Homer Reynolds carried the ball back for only a 5 yard gain. East St. Louis substituted Frederick for Springston at right guard. Jacksonville attempted a forward pass but failed and were forced to punt. Carrol carried the ball back for a good gain. Godejohn went around Jacksonville's end in two plays, netting 15 yards, Fletcher 5, and again Godejohn encircled Jacksonville's left end for a 45 yard run. The ball was in good shooting distance of goal when time was called for the quarter, the ball in East St. Louis' possession on the 8 yard line. Score 27 to 0.

Second Half.

The second half opened up with East St. Louis kicking to Jacksonville. The visitors recovered a fumble on the 45 yard line. Jacksonville was penalized for off side play. East St. Louis by a forward pass to Frederick gained 30 yards. Carrol followed this up by a zig-zag journey thru the Jacksonville men for a big gain. East St. Louis was unable to make their downs and the ball went to Jacksonville on the 20 yard line. Jacksonville punted to Carrol. Dunham followed up in the next play with a 10 yard gain, and when East St. Louis attempted a kick the punt was blocked by Jacksonville. Jacksonville punted to the 50 yard line. East St. Louis was unable to make their downs, the ball going to Jacksonville's possession on the 40 yard line. A pretty forward pass, netting 30 yards, was credited to Ramsey, and this was followed by another forward pass of 10 yards to Fierke. East St. Louis' coach sent in Curtis to relieve Kurrus at left guard, and White took his old place again at right end. The quarter ended with the ball in East St. Louis' possession on the 25 yard line.

East St. Louis scored again in the last quarter after Godejohn made a run of 20 yards carrying the ball to Jacksonville's 35 yard line. Dunham added another 15 yards, and after the East St. Louis quarterback had netted another 5 yards, Godejohn in his second play was sent over for a touchdown. Carrol failed to kick goal. Score 33 to 0.

The rest of the quarter was a seesaw game with neither side getting busy until about 3 minutes before the time was up, when Jacksonville took a spurt and carried the ball down to within 5 yards of striking distance when East St. Louis held them for downs. The visitors punted out of danger and the quarter ended with the ball on the visitors' 30 yard line.

HOPE TO SECURE NEEDED FUND OUTSIDE JACKSONVILLE

President Harker Issues Statement About Illinois Woman's College Campaign.

President Harker of the Woman's College after consultation with the trustees Saturday issued a statement indicating that it is the intention to prosecute the campaign which the college must make it this time, outside of Jacksonville. In order to meet the conditions imposed by the general education board of the church the $300,000 endowment must be secured by Jan. 1st. It is the hope that all the needed funds can be secured outside of Jacksonville and no local soliciting will be done, unless during the final two weeks this course is absolutely necessary. The college management hopes not to in any way interfere with any other financial campaign. Dr. Harker's letter follows:

"To the Friends of the Illinois Woman's College in Jacksonville:"

"The Illinois Woman's college greatly appreciates the friendship and interest of the citizens of Jacksonville in the advancement of the college. Especially do the trustees remember the interest and help so generously givn in the campaign three years ago, when the first part of the endowment requirement was successfully met.

"It will be remembered that the college was required, in order to remain a standard college, to secure a total of $280,000. Of this amount $80,000 was for buildings and equipment and $200,000 for clear endowment. We secured at that time the $80,00, and also one-half, or $100,000 of the required endowment, leaving still $100,000 of endowment to be secured later.

"We have been endeavoring faithfully to do this, and we now have $25,000 of it in good pledges. The whole amount of $100,000 must be secured by Jan. 1, 1916. Only nine weeks to find friends to give $75,000!

"It is our desire to secure this outside of Jacksonville, and we will do our very best to accomplish this result. But if we cannot find it outside, we are hoping that we have friends here who will stand by the college so that it does not fail in this time of emergency.

"Our plan is, therefore, to push the canvass with all vigor outside of Jacksonville until the last weeks in December, after which we will appeal to our Jacksonville friends only in case of necessity.

"In the meantime we shall greatly appreciate any volunteer gifts or volunteer service from friends here, and especially we ask their prayers and sympathetic interest for the successful issue of this campaign.

"Joseph R. Harker, President."

The Point of Contact

Society Brand Clothes

YOU men, as clothes buyers, should have some way of knowing that the clothes you buy are perfectly made.

It may be impossible for you to visit the factory and see for yourself. Yet you want to be sure of material, workmanship and design.

OUR store is the point of contact between you and the makers of GOOD CLOTHES. Our confidence in the clothes is based upon our knowledge that the makers put into them the solid lasting kind of value that is possible only with high standards and scientific methods.

Therefore, it's natural for you to feel that clothes you buy here offer you more satisfactfon than elsewhere. Ask to see the $15 $17-$20 values.
